在米沖縄関係文書の資料地図

仲本和彦
本資料の作成経緯

本資料は、仲本和彦氏（沖縄県公文書館指定管理者 公益財団法人 沖縄県文化振興会公文書管理課資料公開班長（2019年3月時点））の約20年前の活動の成果物である。仲本氏は当時、米国国立公文書館（The National Archives and Records Administration）を中心とするアーカイブズを対象として、資料目録を確認し、沖縄関係文書の収集を念頭に、文書の所在情報をメモした。在米沖縄関係資料は膨大であるため、資料を一人で確認するのは時間的経済的理由からほぼ不可能であり、再確認は未完である。しかし、同氏が作成したメモは、次の世代のアーキビスト、歴史学者、政治史や国際関係の研究者等が資料を調査し研究する上で、資料の見取り図として有用だと考えられる。資料所在情報の再確認が不十分であることを踏まえた上で、今後の活用の道を開くことは、研究促進の一助となると期待する。

そこで、当時のメモを、以下の方針に従って編集した。

編集方針
・資料に関する情報及び資料調査に役立ち得るメモは残す。
・資料の購入等に関するメモは削除する。
・明らかなミススペリングは修正する（修正履歴は残さない）。
・資料情報のうち、作成者により色付けされた部分は、その色のままとする。
・各種記号（アスタリスク（*）、三角（△）等）は、文字の色も含め、作成者が付したままとする。
・日本語のメモは、赤字に統一する。
・英語または記号で、作成者のメモと思われる黒字又は青字のものは、そのままとする。
・全角英数は、半角英数に統一する。

In June 1941 the Air Corps of the United States Army was renamed the Army Air Force (AAF). Since 1939 headquarters functions had been divided between the Office of the Chief of the Air Corps and the General Headquarters Air Force. Shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Chief of the Army Air Forces was appointed a member of both the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Combined Chiefs of Staff. The higher status of AAF was confirmed in March 1942 when, under a general reorganization of the War Department, it was placed directly under the Secretary of War and the War Department General Staff and made coordinate with the Army Ground Forces and the Services of Supply (later Army Service Forces). Headquarters Army Air Forces was given centralized staff control over all Air Corps organizations and installations in the continental United States as well as control over certain overseas functions. Thus AAF, through its representation on the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Combined Chiefs of Staff, was directly concerned with the overall strategic direction of the war, including the commitment of men and material to the air forces in the combat theaters. Most of the staff divisions of AAF Headquarters were also constantly concerned with preparing policy studies for the Commanding General and serving on the many subcommittees of joint and combined staffs on behalf of AAF. Late in 1944 responsibility for all air-related radio and radar equipment, activities, and functions was transferred from the Signal Corps to AAF. In 1946 a general postwar reorganization was effected, and in September of the following year the Army Air Forces was re-designated the United States Air Force under the newly created Department of the Air Force, as established by the National Security Act of 1947.1

RG59, GENERAL RECORDS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE

After World War II, the Department of State was greatly involved in occupation issue of Japan as well as Okinawa. Especially, to decide territorial status of Okinawa, the Department of State was a major advocate to return the island to Japan. This record group is one of the major groups to have a huge amount of materials about Okinawa.

The records are divided into three major categories: 1) Central Files, 2) Office or Lot Files, and 3) Post Files.

1) Central Files.

These records, part of Record Group 59, are divided into four time periods: A) Before 1906, B) 1906-1910, C) 1910-1963, D) After January 1963.

Decimal Filing System, 1910-49
Class 0: General. Miscellaneous.
Class 1: Administration, Government of the United States.
Class 2: Extradition.
Class 3: Protection of Interests.
Class 4: Claims.
Class 7: Political Relations of States. Bi-lateral Treaties.
Class 8: Internal Affairs of States.

Decimal Filing System, 1950-63
Class 0: Miscellaneous.
Class 1: Administration, Government of the United States.
Class 2: Protection of Interests (Persons and Property).
Class 4: International Trade and Commerce. Trade Relations, Treaties, Agreements. Customs Administration.
Class 5: International Informational and Educational Relations. Cultural Affairs and Programs.
Class 6: International Political Relations. Other International Relations.
Class 7: Internal Political and National Defense Affairs.
Class 8: Internal Economic, Industrial and Social Affairs.
(Note: Classes 0 thru 2-Miscellaneous; Administrative. Classes 3 thru 6-International relations; relations of one country with another, or of a group of countries with other countries. Classes 7 thru 9-Internal affairs; domestic problems, conditions, etc., and only rarely concerns more than one country or area.)

There are eight primary subject classes: Administration, Consular, Culture and Information, Economic, Political and Defense, Science, Social, and International Organizations and Conferences. Each primary class has from 3-19 secondary subject classes. Within each secondary class the records are arranged in folders by country, thereunder by number, and thereunder by date.

Researchers can purchase microfilm rolls from NARA’s Publication Sales Office.

Two private companies, Scholarly Resource (SR) and University Publications of America (UPA), produced some microfilm publications and donated a copy to NARA, designated as library microfilm and identified by “LM” numbers. These microfilms can be purchased directly from the two firms.

UPA and SR produced some microfilm publications under a regulated contract program and have donated a copy to NARA, designated as contract microfilm and identified by “C” numbers. NARA cannot sell copies of “C” publications, but it can convert them to NARA publications after seven years. Until NARA converts the microfilm to “M” publications, researcher must purchase copies from the private companies.

OFFICE OR LOT FILES

These are usually records of organizational units, or records relating to certain functions or special subjects, that were not filed in the Central File. Some are in RG 59, but some are in other records groups: records relating to international conferences, commissions and exhibitions (RG 43); records of boundaries, claims, and artirations (RG 76); and the records of State Department committees (RG 353).

There are thousands of separate office or lot files, and no single system for the retrieval of information about them. They are all listed on the Master Location Register (MLR) for each record group, but impossible to find on the MLR without knowing the entry number.

A. Records of Organization Units
   Described in Inv. 15, Entries 209-719.7, and on pp. 58-160 of the MLR

B. Records of Certain Functions
   Described in Inv. 15, Entries 720-927, and on pp. 160-207 of the MLR

C. Records of Special Subjects or Events, Individuals, Miscellaneous
   Described in Inv. 15, Entries 928-1126, and on pp. 208-247 of the MLR

D. Records not included in Inventory 15
   1. NARS A-1 Format, and Entries 1127-1256 on pp. 248-269 of the MLR
   2. Draft Entries 1257-1610 on pp. 269-327 of the MLR
   3. Draft Entries 3001-3178 on pp. 327-356 of the MLR
   4. Draft Entries 1279, 1589, and 1590 on p. 357 of the MLR
   5. Un-described Records 1-93 and 1000-1007 on pp. 1-12 of the UD MLR

Harley A. Notter entered the State Department in 1937 as a research associate. During World War II he held various positions within offices and committees engaged in postwar planning. He became Assistant Chief of the Division of Special Research in 1942, Chief of the Division of Political Studies in 1943, and Chief of the vision of International Security and Organization in 1944. In addition he served as executive Secretary of the Advisory Committee on Post-War Foreign Policy, as a member of the Committee on Special Studies, and as a member of the Committee on Post-War Programs. After serving as an advisor at the Dumbarton Oaks Conversations, Notter became an advisor in the Office of Special Political Affairs in November 1944. He continued in that position under the successor Office of United Nations Affairs in 1948. He was also an advisor at the San Francisco Conference in 1945 and became Advisor to the Assistant Secretary for United Nations Affairs in 1949.

The records of many World War II Committees became part of the office files of Notter during his compilation of Postwar Foreign Policy Preparation, 1939-45, published by the Department in 1949. In 1960 the records relating to the various policy and planning committees, the Dumbarton Oaks Conversations on International Organization (April-October 1944), the San Francisco Conference on International Organization (April-Jun 1945), the United Nations Preparatory Commission (August 1945 – February 1946), and miscellaneous material relating to postwar planning assembled by Notter during the preparation of his book, were consolidated by the Department of State into a single lot file, which was accessioned by NARA as the Notter File.

The records consist of minutes, research reports, memoranda, and correspondence covering a wide range of international security, political, territorial, military, economic, and social matters. Arrangement is random, but within series of records relating to individual committees, the documents are filed numerically.
In 1974, the Notter File was reorganized into the following series:

- Drafts of Foreign Policy Preparation, 1939-45
- Miscellaneous Subject Files, 1939-50
- Records of Economic Committees, 1940-46
- Records of the Advisory Committee on Postwar Foreign Policy, 1942-45
- Records Relating to Miscellaneous Policy Committees, 1940-45
- Policy Summaries, 1943-44
- Records of the Division of International Security and Organization (ISO), 1944-45
- Records Relating to the Dumbarton Oaks Conversations, 1944
- Records Relating to the United Nations Preparatory Commission, 1945

The series contains records pertaining to official visits of foreign dignitaries to the U.S. and major international conferences attended by the Secretary or Under-Secretary of State. Included in the files are telegrams, briefing books, memoranda of conversation, orders of the day, memoranda, chronologies, biographical material, verbatim records of meetings and other miscellaneous records. There are two numerical runs of conference files. When the Department initiated the series in 1949 it began with CF1. That system continued until January 1966 when the numerical sequence began over with a new CF1.

Entry 5036 (A1): Executive Secretariat, Presidential and Secretary of State Official Exchange of Correspondence, 1961-66  (NND979525) (Location: 250/50/23/05) *

These records consists of copies of letters from Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk; and letters received from various heads of state or their chief ministers. This series is arranged in two parts. The first part is arranged geographically by four region: 1) Central/South America and the Caribbean; 2) East Asia; Europe; and 4) Near East. The second part is arranged by the name of eight countries with which the Department of State significantly engaged in diplomatic exchanges, i.e., India, China, France, East Germany, Egypt, Soviet Union, United Kingdom, and Israel. These records cover a wide range of topics and express the official United States position on issues of interest to specific countries. Topics discussed pertain to cultural exchange programs, scheduled diplomatic missions, foreign aid, territorial disputes, birth control/overpopulation, social unrest and instability, conservation/environmental programs, sales of weapons, voyages in outer space, U.S. military bases abroad, import/export policies, world-wide economic trends, Communist advancements, science and technology, economic reforms, and the war in Vietnam. Many of these diplomatic exchanges are official U.S. expressions of gratitude, congratulations or condolences involving significant occurrences in other countries such as national holidays, marriages, births, deaths, coronations, elections, sickness/injury, natural disasters, commemorations, or notable accomplishments such as the construction of major bridges, highways or dams. In a similar manner various foreign countries express their official concerns or positions regarding State Department policies, or comment on commemorative events of significance to the United States.  † Lot No. 66D476. POST FILES

Those records that were originally filed at American embassies and legations (arranged by country) and consulates (arranged by city) form RG 84. Although most of the correspondence between foreign service posts and the State Department duplicates the central file records, post files may also contain correspondence with local officials. Records dated before 1912 are arranged by type of correspondence and thereunder chronologically. Records dated after 1912 are filed by subject according to a decimal filing scheme, but the files are broken annually.

(Annual Reports of Components of the Army Medical Department)
Arranged geographically by Army command (Zone of Interior, European Theater), thereunder alphabetically by component (arsenal, brigade, company, hospital), and thereunder numerically by unit designation or alphabetically by unit name.

Annual reports submitted by all Army Medical Department components to the Office of the Surgeon General. Subjects considered include changes of location, numbers of troops served, organization, training, sanitation, disease control, medical services provided, equipment, and supplies. Some reports were submitted quarterly. Larger components filed more extensive reports which were usually bound.

Entry 46B: History and Museums Division, Records of Ground Combat Units, 1941-46  (NND 913069)  (Location: 370/23/28/7)  Total 62 boxes.

Collection of documents assembled by the History and Museums Division. Most of the records are for units of regimental size or below, but some are for higher echelon commands such as corps and division. They relate to major Marine Corps campaigns in the Pacific area during World War II, the postwar occupation of Japan, and Marine Corps occupation troops stationed in China in the immediate postwar years. Some of the records in the latter category contain references to the conflict between the Communist and Nationalist forces.

Arranged in three subseries. The first subseries consists of a general index arranged in four parts by subject, date of documents, classified document number, or organization. The second series is a “historical document file” index with various name, subject, numerical and chronological breakdowns. The third subseries is an alphabetical index to Navy code named operations arranged by geographic area.

This 3 by 5 inch card index serves as a finding aid to correspondence, reports, operation orders and plans, war plans, war diaries and other records. Most of the documents indexed are for the period from World War II through the Korean War and are widely dispersed in a number of different series. For example, the “historical document file” portion of the index relates to numerically arranged documents in the series GENERAL SUBJECT FILE, 1950-53 (See Entry 1023 (A1)). Many of the Korean War documents indexed can be found in the series RECORDS RELATING TO OPERATIONS AND EXERCISES, 1950-53.

Entry 1023 (A1): History and Museums Division, General Subject File, 1940-53 (NND 984144) (Location: 370/B/24/4) Total 59 boxes.

Arranged according to a numerical scheme based on the original box and folder number. The individual files consisting this artificially constructed series follow no consistent pattern of arrangement, but documents relating to particular subjects are often grouped together. Many of the records document Marine Corps operations in World War II. Included are action and intelligence reports for the Guadalcanal, Iwo Jima, Guam and Okinawa campaigns as well as for campaigns in the Marshall and Solomon Islands. Guadalcanal related files include an operations report of the First Marine Division, 1943 (files 9-12 through 13-12). For Solomon Islands operations there are intelligence summaries of Commander Aircraft, Solomon Islands and Commander Aircraft, Northern Solomons, 1943-45 (files 2-11 through 5-11, 1-17 through 21-17 and 1-18 through 4-18). Okinawa campaign files include special action reports of the Sixth Marine Division and its subordinate units, 1945 (files 6-8 through 8-8, 12-8 through 21-8, 1-9 through 10-9 and 14-12 through 37-12). There is also an operational history of the First Marine Air Wing, Jul 1941 – Jun 1946 (file 13-15). Many other records relate to the Marine Corps’s involvement in the Korean conflict, including a Report on activities of Fleet Marine Force Pacific from 25 Jun 1950 to the Amphibious Assault at Inchon (file32-6); a two volume Evaluation of the Influence of Marine Corps Forces on the Course of the Korean War, 4 Aug – 15 Dec 1950 (file 48-6); and periodic intelligence reports of the First Marine Division, Oct 1950 – Nov 1952 (files 27-18 through 14-20). Other records include reports and intelligence assessments relating to the West Indies area, China, Japan, Germany, Great Britain, France and Italy. While the bulk of this series covers World War II and the Korean War, as well as the period between these two conflicts, there are a few documents from the pre-World War II era and post-Korean War period.

Entry 107L: Records Relating to Marine Corps Strengths and Casualties, 1775-1971

Arranged in three subseries: strength, casualties, and miscellaneous records, and thereunder in roughly chronological order. This series consists of various strength reports, casualty reports, statistical tables, correspondence, and related records which document recruitment for, strength of, and casualties suffered by the Marine Corps, Marine Reserve, and Women’s Reserve from 1775 to 1971, but especially for the period of World War II and the Korean conflict. Strength reports include such categories of information as gains and losses, ranks, promotions, discharges, reserves, regulars, retired, women, forces as ashore, and afloat, dependents, age aviators, race, and naval districts. Casualty figures are broken down by such categories as rank, location, unit, date, type of casualty, state/county of residence, and aviation.

Series consist of monthly war diaries which give day by day accounts of the squadron’s or unit’s activities. Diaries may also contain narrative summaries of the month’s events and usually include rosters of pilots or other officers and statistical summaries indicating the number of flight and combat hours, combat missions, bombs and ammunition expended, enemy planes destroyed, enemy shipping destroyed or damaged, friendly losses (including pilots), and casualties. Interspersed with the diaries are some unit histories which may also include biographies of unit officers. The histories typically cover longer time spans and may include information for the entire period of the unit’s existence.

(NWMDDM-D 994017)  (Location: 370/D/8/3)  Total 85 boxes.

The folders in the series are arranged in squadrons numeric order first, then chronological within each squadron number. The type designation of Marine squadrons changed frequently in some cases, but the numerical designation of the squadron remained the same.

This series consists of the war diaries and unit histories of individual Marines Corps squadrons. The records of each squadrons usually consists of two parts—the war diary of the squadron and unit history of the squadrons. The war diary can have two parts. First, there is a monthly chronological of significant events for the squadron. Second, if the squadron is engaged in operations against the enemy, there is a series of ACA-1 reports that described a particular mission. The ACA-1 reports do list the number of aircraft on the mission, aircraft type, enemy aircraft encountered and shot down, friendly casualties, and each report has a written narrative section. The ACA-1’s do not provide individual aircraft information such as crew assignments or aircraft bureau number unless the aircraft is a casualty during the described mission. The ACA-1 reports are sometimes accompanied by maps, drawings, and photographs.

The unit history of a squadron can take one of both of two forms. All of the unit histories done during World War II are narratives usually written by the squadron intelligence officer. There are some postwar narrative histories as well, but most of the unit histories written after the war take the form of monthly chronological submission closely resembling the war diaries that they replaced. Some unit histories contain photographs, maps, and drawings.

Some squadron had placed additional material in their war diaries and unit histories. For example, VMF-214 placed a copy of Major Gregory “Pappy” Boyington’s combat tactics in the squadron’s war diary, and there is an interview of a member of VMF-211 who fought at Wake Island placed in that squadron’s unit history. There is material from six non-Marine aviation units in the series as well. ACA-1 reports from Navy squadrons VBF-94, VF-94, and VT-94 are located at the front of the series. A report from the commander of Army Air Forces units on Midway Island in June 1942 is also present under the folder title 431st BS USAAF.

Arranged numerically by Air Wing, and thereunder by subject or support unit.

The records in this series consist mainly of war diaries and unit histories of U.S. Marine Air Wings and their supporting command, service, supply and intelligence units. Supplemental documents include intelligence reports, training materials, dispatches, reports on special operations and activities, and some medical reports and unit rosters. Many of the folders, especially those containing unit histories, include photographs depicting personnel, facilities, equipment, aircraft and activities. Some folders also include maps, plans and unit publications. This series contains a large amount of information on special topics relating to support units, particularly aerial reconnaissance and air warning radar systems. There are also reports on the activities of the 1st Marine Air Wing’s experimental helicopter squadron, HMX-1. Transcripts in these records consist mainly of personal accounts by Marine airmen who were returned alive after being downed at sea or in non-U.S. held territory such as Communist China. Geographic areas in the Pacific Theater of Operations, and in the United States, are also documented in some detail. †

Arranged numerically by Aircraft Group, and thereunder by support unit and subject.

The records in this series consist mainly of war diaries and unit histories of U.S. Marine Air Groups and their supporting command, service, supply and intelligence units. Supplemental documents include intelligence reports, training materials, dispatches, reports on special operations and activities, and some medical reports and unit rosters. Many of the folders especially those containing unit histories, include photographs depicting personnel, facilities, equipment, aircraft and activities. This series also includes a good number of maps, and aerial reconnaissance photographs, many of which document the effectiveness of aerial bombardment. Certain Group war diaries include a large number of aircraft action reports, describing sorties in detail, and occasionally including aerial photographs from the mission. This series contains a large amount of information on special topics relating to support units, particularly aerial reconnaissance and air warning radar system. Geographic areas in the Pacific Theater of Operations, and in the United States, are also documented in some detail. Some Groups were converted from standard Aircraft Groups to Air Support Groups or Base Defense Aircraft Groups during the war. There are separate unit records for each incarnation of a Group, but the Group’s numeric designator remained the same. †

This series consists of the war diaries, unit histories, and other documentation of Marine Corps shore commands or other service shore commands associated with Marine Corps aviation. This series includes operational shore-based aviation commands like Commander Air Northern Solomons and administrative shore-based aviation commands such as Commander, Marine Air West Coast. Like the squadrons, the shore commands normally kept war diaries, although not all commands in the series have them. Some time after World War II, the commands ceased submitting war diaries and began submitting unit histories documenting command activity on a monthly basis. The operational shore commands also submitted other documentation in the form of intelligence reports, operations reports, plans, orders, and other documents concerning the operation of the shore command or its subordinate commands. Also included in the series are the war diaries and unit histories for anumber of Marine Corps air bases, air stations, air facilities, auxiliary air facilities, and aviation detachments. Not all these commands are present in the series.

Arranged by corps number or fleet to which the corps was attached and thereunder by type of record.

The series consists of correspondence, arranged by the Ells-Dran filing system, for each Amphibious Corps organization followed by miscellaneous records which are grouped roughly by type of record. The miscellaneous records include operational orders, plans and reports; intelligence reports; personnel rosters and strength reports; war diaries and journals; and reports of casualties. The records document major Marine Corps amphibious operations in the Pacific Theater, including Bougainvill, Iwo Jima, the Marianas, Palaus, the Ryukyus and Tarawa. They also relate to the Marine Corps’ role in Operations FLINTLOCK, FORAGER, ICEBERG and OLYMPIC. In addition to operational matters, the records also document supply, logistics and administration.

Entry 1011 (A1): Subject File Relating to World War II, 1940-45  (NND 984091)  (Location: 370/B/18/2)  Total 61 boxes.

Arranged alphabetically by subject. This artificial series was assembled by the History and Museums Division and its predecessors and consists of records originating from the Marine Corps Intelligence and Historical Section, Division of Plans and Policies, and commands in the field. There are also records from the U.S. Army and Navy and from foreign sources. Although most of the records date from World War II, some predate that period, for example those which relate to the situation in China during the late 1920's and 1930's and to the Spanish Civil War. Other records are for the immediate post-World War II period. A number of the records relate to military operations and include reports of engagements or campaigns as well as operating plans. Other records concern U.S., Japanese and German armed forces, military equipment, naval vessels, transportation and ordnance; intelligence assessments of foreign nations; military casualties; and prisoners of war. At the end of the series are World War II chronologies dating from December 1941 to December 1944.

Arranged by subject in no consistent pattern, except that records for ground and amphibious units are filed at the beginning of the series, while most records relating to Marine aviation are filed at the end.

The records document Marine Corps operations in the Pacific during World War II and in northern China (particularly Tsingtao) during the immediate postwar period. The documentation includes operational plans and orders, intelligence studies, action/after action reports and postwar histories. The series contains Naval War College studies compiled in the 1950’s on the Battle of Savo Island and the Battle of Leyte Gulf; a special monograph by Col. A.T. Mason on amphibious warfare before and during World War II; studies prepared by the Commander in Chief, U.S. Fleet on amphibious operations during 1943-44; histories of Marine aircraft groups; historical information relating to Fleet Marine Force Pacific; transcripts of interview with World War II Navy and Marine officers; administrative histories and operational diaries of Marine Corps headquarters organizations; a November 1945 intelligence study of Japanese installations in Peiping; documentation relating to the surrender of Japanese troops in Tsingtao to Marine forces in Oct 1945 (including a signed copy of the act of surrender); and a report of the Naval Technical Mission to Japan, November 1945. Pre-World War II records include a 1936 geographic study of Wake Island prepared by Marine Corps Schools and a 1940 report on the defenses of Samoa. Lastly, there are copies of British handbooks on amphibious operations and a 1943 Marine Corps counterintelligence manual.

Arranged according to a subject-numeric scheme in the following categories: Chief of Naval Operations, ND (Navy Department), G (Geographic), F (Fleet Marine Force), FA (Fleet Marine Force Aviation), HQ (Commandant, Marine Corps), U and P (U.S. Pacific Fleet), W (War Department), World War II Photographs, and A (Aviation)

These records constituting this artificial series were assembled from a variety of sources, including files of the Adjutant and Inspector General’s Office, the Division of Plans and Policies, the War Plans Section and the Aviation Section. The documents were removed from their original provenance and archived to form this artificial series. Although most of the records relate to World War II, a number predate that period, including those relating to Marine Corps activities in Guam.
Nicaragua and Brazil, 1913–45, and to Marine Aviation, dating from the 1920’s. World War II records include operational reports, orders and plans; situation and special action reports; correspondence; and numerous photographs. The records relate to a wide variety of subjects, including Pacific Island and North African operations, activities of Marine Corps ground units, the occupation of Japan and China, postwar and demobilization planning, amphibious vehicles, and military equipment.

Total 361 boxes. Arranged alphabetically by geographic name or area of operation.

This series documents the principal combat operations, plans, occupations, and other activities of the United States Marine Corps in World War II. Operational areas covered include Alaska, Bougainville, China, Gilberts (Tarawa, Makin), Green Island, Guadalcanal, Guam, Hawaii, Iceland, Iwo Jima, Japan, Korea, Marianas, Marshalls, Midway, New Britain, New Georgia, New Ireland, New Zealand, Okinawa, Paramushiri, Peleliu, Philippines, Saipan/Tinian, Samoa, Sicily, Truk, Treasury Islands, and Wake. The records include not only reports of Marine combat operations, but also reports of U.S. Navy ships supporting some Marine operations; records relating to the planned and executed occupation of China, Iceland, Japan, and Korea, and records relating to planned but unexecuted operations against Japanese bases such as Truk. Many of the documents originate at the tactical unit level, often as low as battalion or company, accompanied by maps and sketches.

Entry ?: Papers of James T. Watkins, IV
Prof. James T. Watkins, IV, formerly with the Hoover Institution, served as a Naval Reserve lieutenant commander on Okinawa for sixteen months. As official historian for the military government forces during the “Navy Year” (21 September 1945-1 July 1946), he gathered together a large collection of orders, directives, draft manuscripts, staff studies, memoranda, photographs, news clippings, and working notes. These unclassified papers constitute an invaluable source of information on the Navy's role in the military government operations on the island.
The United States Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS) was created during World War II to advise the President regarding the strategic direction of the armed forces of the United States. The JCS became the US representatives on the Combined Chiefs of Staff, which was established by the President and the British Prime Minister in 1942. Existing informally during WW II, the JCS continued to function after the war and was given statutory authority by the National Security Act of 1947 (61 Stat. 505), July 26, 1947.

The JCS organization included the Joint Chiefs of Staff themselves (At first the Chief of Naval Operations, Chief of Staff of the US Army, Commander in Chief of the US Fleet and Commanding General of the Army Air Forces. This structure was later modified), the Joint Deputy Chiefs of Staff, the Secretariat and a number of standing committees (Joint Staff Planners, Joint Intelligence Committee, Joint Psychological Warfare Committee, Joint Military Transportation Committee, Joint Communications Board and Joint Committee on New Weapons and Equipment, among others).

The main body of JCS records from 1942 to 1958, consists of DECIMAL CORRESPONDENCE FILES arranged according to the War Department decimal filing system and GEOGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENCE FILES arranged alphabetically by country or area, thereunder according to the War Department decimal filing system. Separate series exist for records dated 1942-45, 1946-47, 1948-50, 1951-53, 1954-56, 1957 and 1958. Series box and file lists exist to aid research. Similar records created during 1959 and after can be found in the series JOINST SECRETARIAT CENTRAL FILES. JCS used a four digit filing scheme for years 1959-1966 and a separate three digit scheme was adopted in 1967. Security classified and Restricted Data records are segregated into subseries. A filing system guide exists to aid research.

A number of Joint Chiefs of Staff documents shed light on the decision to undertake Operation ICEBERG, as well as on the subsequent strategic planning for postwar Asia—including the long-term administration of the Ryukyus.

-Nansei Shoto
The National Security Act of 1947 and Reorganization Plan of 1949 established the National Security Council (NSC) and defined its composition and functions. The NSC is chaired by the President, and consists of statutory members (the Vice President and the Secretaries of State and Defense), statutory advisors (the Chair of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency), the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, and professional staff members. The National Security Act created the NSC to “advise the President with respect to the integration of domestic, foreign, and military policies relating to the national security so as to enable the military services and the other departments and agencies of the government to cooperate more effectively in matters involving national security.”

Formal Policy Papers, 1947-61
NSC policy papers were written by the NSC Staff, reviewed by Council members, and approved by the President. Once approved, the paper represented the national security policy of the United States until amended or rescinded. The policy papers fall into four main categories: Basic overall policy papers, which covers a wide range of national security problems and contain related political, economic, and military strategy; papers covering individual foreign countries or larger geographical regions; “functional” policies such as mobilization, atomic energy, trade, etc; and organizational policies regarding the organization of the Council itself.

Procedure Files (“P” Papers), 1947-59
Papers relating to, but not producing a formal Policy Paper. (When Procedure Papers were turned into Policy Papers all material from the original file was pulled into the Policy Paper file).

“Mill” Papers, 1947-59
Papers documenting current projects that were expected to become policy papers, but did not. (When Mill Papers were turned into Policy Papers all material from the original file was pulled into the Policy Paper file).

National Security Council Intelligence Directives (NSCID), 1947-72
Documents concerning the creation, duties, responsibilities and organization of U.S. intelligence activities. Most of the documents are dated 1947-1950 with later dates being subsequent revisions.

Meeting Minutes, 1947-61
The NSC meeting minutes consists of brief agenda for the Council meetings. Occasionally, reports and other documents submitted to the NSC at the meeting are included.

Records of Action, 1947-60
The Executive Secretary of the NSC recorded the decisions made at the Council meeting in this series.

Memorandum Approval, 1947-60
When it did not appear necessary to have a formal Council discussion of a report, the Council acted on the report by Memorandum Approval.

Records of the Operations Coordinating Board (OCB), 1957-61
The OCB was created in 1953 to coordinate the development of detailed operational plans for national security strategy among various agency representatives. The OCB was formally placed within the structure of the NSC effective July 1, 1957. OCB records created before 1957 are in the Eisenhower Library.

Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, Intelligence, Army Intelligence and Security Command, Records of the Investigative Records Repository, Security Classified Intelligence and Investigative Dossiers, 1939-76

The records of the Investigatory Records Repository are arranged in two series: the impersonal and the personal name files. The impersonal files include files on a number of subjects and organizations; the personal name files include dossiers on individuals.

The personal name files are arranged alphabetically by the last name of the individual.

These records are accessioned in increments and are usually security classified at the time of accessioning. These intelligence records created since 1945; they cannot be systematically reviewed for declassification until 50 years after the closing date of the file. Thus, at this time access may be gained only through the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act or mandatory review in accordance with EO 12356.

Entry 134A (A1): Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, Intelligence, Army Intelligence and Security Command, Records of the Investigative Records Repository, Security Classified Intelligence and Investigative Dossiers, 1939-76, Impersonal Files (NND 951306)  (Location: 270/84/20/2 for boxes 1-143, 270/84/24/1 for boxes 144-147A)

Entry 1662 (A1): Records Relating to Civil Affairs in the Ryukyu Islands, 1950-68 (NND 991131) (Location: 631/20/68/5)

Total 58 boxes. Though retired and supplemented by organizational units within the Deputy Chief of Staff for Military Operations (DCSOPS), it was organizational units within the United States Civil Administration of the Ryukyu Islands (USCAR), the Office of the Chief of Civil Affairs and Military Government, and the Office of the Chief of Civil Affairs which created and accumulated most of the records in this series. The records apparently accompanied their custodians in the wake of periodic reorganizations, until the last one brought them to DCSOPS.

Major topics include the logistics and economics of emigration to Bolivia; electrical power—the need for more, the debate over whether or not the new generating station should be nuclear powered, and details of the construction, maintenance, and running of the new generating station at Kin, Okinawa; development and use of new water, sewage, and irrigation systems; details of, and opposition to, U.S. Army land acquisitions; voluntary aid programs, including shipping records of the commodities received; disaster relief; fishing and whaling quotas; copies of rescinded U.S. legislation; financial aid from the Government of Japan; retirement benefits for Ryukyuan nationals employed by the U.S.; and details about the mechanics of, and spending under, the USCAR General Fund.

Other topics include the conception and early years of the Civic Action program, which authorized the U.S. Army to help the armed forces of friendly, underdeveloped nations threatened by Communism to undertake economic and social development programs; and budget preparation, justification, and appropriation. (Series Description)
Organized effective August 27, 1951, as United States Civil Administration of the Ryukyu Islands, 8104th Army Unit. The primary purpose of USCAR was to further the establishment of a standard of living for the Ryukyuans in comparison to that which existed prior to World War II.

(Sub-series Description)
General Administrative Files (Decimals), 1951 and 1953.  (Boxes 600 – 604)
Arranged by decimal number and year, ca. 1951 and 1953. Organized body of correspondence and other types of documents relating to a variety of functions or subjects from all decimal series. Decimal files are the heart of an individual unit’s records. This series documents the various transactions that took place in USCAR while administering the Ryukyu Islands and provides important information about its operations and activities during the early 1950s. Volume 7.4 cu. ft.

Instruction Files, 1953.  (Box 604)
Arranged by type, ca. 1953. USCAR directives, operational instructions, ordinances, and proclamations. Volume 1 inch.
Permanent Order Files, 1950-53. (Box 604)

Arranged according to National Security Agency/Central Security Service identification number (SRA 1-18500).

This series consists of translation reports of intercepted and decoded Japanese Army attaché radio messages. The intercepted messages originated mainly from Japanese Army attaches in Berlin, Rome, Lisbon, Madrid, Stockholm, Helsinki, Budapest, Tangiers, Buenos Aires, Hsingking, and other locations. Some messages from Tokyo to the attaches, including weekly intelligence summaries, are also in the records.

The translated messages contain information on both Allied and Axis strategy, tactics, operational planning, organization, logistics, weapons and equipment, fortifications, air defense, unit strength and location, and troop movement. Included is information on military operations, United States aircraft production, President Franklin D. Roosevelt’s planned trips, and Japanese radio communications security.

This series consists of electrostatic copies. Information requiring continued protection for national security reasons has been deleted.

Entry 9005 (A1): Translation Reports of Intercepted Japanese Army Messages, 1942-45 (NND 947022) (Location: 190/36/13/7)

Total 168 boxes. Arranged according to NSA/CSS identification number (SR 1-135869, with gaps).

Translation reports of intercepted and decoded Japanese radio messages. The intercepted messages originated in both the Japanese home islands and occupied locations throughout the Asian and Pacific areas. The translation reports, prepared under the direction of the Special Branch of the Military Intelligence Division, G-2, contain information on Japanese strategy, tactics, operational planning, organization, logistics, weapons strength and location, troop movements, naval and merchant marine losses, casualties, and the results of air-sea battles.

This series consists of electrostatics copies. Information requiring continued protection for national security reasons has been deleted.

Location: Boxes 1-168 190/36/13/7
Boxes 150-153 (SR 121826-124822) 190/36/35/6

Total 19 boxes. For redacted security copy see Entry 9006 (UD) and for full original records see Entry 9030 (A1). Only the documents for 16 Aug-3 Nov 1945, Box 19, should be provided to researchers. Full text un-redacted original documents are in Entry 9030 (A1).

Entry 9006 (UD): “Magic” Diplomatic Summaries, January 1, 1943-December 3, 1945 (Redacted Electrostatic Security Copy) (NND 947022) (Location: 190/36/17/6)

Total 19 boxes. Boxes are numbered 1-16 and 1-3. Boxes numbered 1-16 are the electrostatic security set for the 1978 accession. Boxes 1-3 are the 1993 updated redacted copies for 1945. See also Entry 9006 (A1) for the 1978 electrostatic reference copy and Entry 9030 (A1) for full text original documents.

Total 7 boxes. Arranged by National Security Agency/Central Security Service identification number (SRNA 001-5324). The series consists of electrostatic copies of translation reports of intercepted, decoded, and translated Japanese naval attaché radio messages. Some information requiring continued protection for national security reasons has been deleted.

The intercepted messages originated mainly from the Japanese Naval Attaché in Berlin. They contain information on US Army/Air Force personnel and aircraft in England, US lend-lease shipments to the Soviet Union, performance of American aircraft, the use and effectiveness of airborne radar, and the personnel and operations of the attaché’s office in Berlin. Among the messages are long reports from the Japanese attaché in Berlin on his discussions with Vice Admiral Meisel, the German Chief of Naval operations, about such subjects as the activities of neutral and Allied nations, the second front, and Anglo-American cooperation. This series consists of electrostatic copies. Information requiring continued protection for national security reasons has been deleted.

Total 358 boxes. Arranged by NSA/CSS identification number (SRN 1-290908). This series consists of translation reports of intercepted, decoded, and translated Japanese Naval radio messages.
The intercepted messages originated from the Japanese home islands, occupied locations throughout the Asian and Pacific areas, Japanese combined and area commands, and commanders of Japanese naval units.

The translation reports contain information on Japanese strategy, tactics, operational planning, organization, logistics, weapons and equipment, fortifications, air defense, naval and merchant marine losses, strength and location of Japanese naval units, casualties, and the results of air-sea battles. They also contain information on the Allied forces and activities in the Pacific.

This series consists of electrostats copies. Information requiring continued protection for national security reasons has been deleted.

Boxes are divided into the following subseries.

Boxes 1-54: Translations in these boxes follow a consistent format and cover translation date ranges from April 27, 1942 to approximately December 6, 1944.

Boxes 54-74: (FAより書写する)

Boxes 74-86: Documents in these boxes are of the same type as those in boxes 1-54. The translation dates resume as December 6, 1944 with SRN 59235 and follow the same format through SRN 68752, with a translation date of March 27, 1945.

Boxes 86-103: (FAより書写する)

Boxes 103-142: Box 103, SRN 081957, returns to the pattern of Boxes 1-54, and 74-86, with a translation start date of March 26, 1945. These boxes resume in time where Box 86 ended. The last SRN of this series is 113637 and bears a translation date of January 31, 1946. Boxes 130 to 133 cover August 1945.

Boxes 142-144: (FAより書写する)

Boxes 144-147: (FAより書写する)

Boxes 147-154: Beginning with SRN 117841 in Box 147, the translation dated begin with April 13, 1945, and the documents date from March 1945. This series continues with translation dates through September 1945 and documents dates of origin from February through July 1945.

Boxes 155-159: (FAより書写する)

Boxes 159-160: (FAより書写する)

Boxes 160-161: (FAより書写する)

Box 161: (FAより書写する)

Boxes 167-173: (FAより書写する)

Boxes 173-358: The format of the messages in this collection of boxes is maintained through the remainder of the collection. Dates of translation closely mirror message dates although there are always documents outside the translation date range. Out-of-range documents are occasionally several months old. In Box 246, documents from London begin appearing. These might contain several different dates that appear to be translation dates. It appears that the messages were intercepted and translated by the British, and at a later date forwarded to the U.S. Also among these documents are found a new typed of summary report. There appear to be daily summaries of ship and troop movements that represent a compilation of multiple messages.

Total 18 boxes. Out dated redacted photocopies exist in Entry 9006 (A1) and Entry 9006 (UD). A 1993 accession of redacted copies for 1945 is also part of Entry 9006 (UD). In 1995, NSA transferred the full text original documents, which replace the previous redacted photocopies in Entry 9006.

This record group consists of the records of various agencies established after World War II to control and direct U.S. foreign economic and technical assistance programs and to coordinate mutual security activities with foreign countries. These functions were considered within the Agency for International Development in 1961.

Special Troops
(General Orders, 1960)
-250/6, Publications Record Set: General Orders, 1960
General Headquarters, Supreme Commander Allied Powers formally established at Tokyo, Japan, October 2, 1945, by GHQ, SCAP General Order 1, October 2, 1945, pursuant to a directive of President Truman, August 14, 1945, designating Gen. Douglas MacArthur as SCAP, as agreed to by the Governments of the United States, the United Kingdom, the Republic of China, and the USSR. Responsible for enforcing Japanese compliance with the Instrument of Surrender, signed September 2, 1945. In the absence of established Allied machinery to supervise the occupation, the United States assumed primary responsibility for the occupation with the consent of the other powers due to the dominant role played by U.S. forces in the defeat of Japan, the U.S. security interests in the Pacific area, and the ability of the U.S. economy to bear the financial burden of the occupation. GHQ SCAP was staffed by general and special staff of GHQ U.S. Army Forces Pacific (AFPAC) some of which operated in a dual capacity. In its functions as SCAP GHQ exercised administrative control over Japan through and with the cooperation of the Emperor and the existing Japanese government. Direct military government was imposed only in the Ryukyu Islands and Korea where no effective local government had been in existence. As GHQ AFPAC the command deployed military forces throughout the country to insure security, maintain order, and supervise the implementation of SCAP directives. In addition GHQ AFPAC was responsible for the ground and air defense of the area under his control.

GHQ Far East Command established, effective January 1, 1947, by War Department classified… 続く

This series consists of case files of property investigations conducted by the Office of the Enemy Property Custodian of the Philippines Command and its predecessors in the years following World War II. Each file usually includes an inventory of real estate and personal property allegedly owned by a Japanese or other enemy national in the Philippine Islands, affidavits by witnesses attesting to the ownership and disposition of this property, and whatever determination the Office of the Enemy Property Custodian made about the property in question. Arranged numerically by an alphanumeric account number. †

This series of prints and negatives illustrates American activities, the bulk of which is military, from the French and Indian War through the Korean Conflict. There are also scenes from wars in which the United States did not directly participated such as the Napoleonic Wars, the Russo-Japanese War, and the Chinese-Japanese War of 1932. This series is an aggregate of two main accessions, each of which will be described separately.

1) 1st Accession: There are two main parts to this first accession. The first part is a collection of prints acquired from the Historical Section, Army War College of the War Department. This collection was originally assigned to RG165, Records of the War Department, General and Special Staff, but it was later reassigned to RG111 because all of the original negatives came from the Army Signal Corps. The second part of this accession was received from the Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Department of the Army. The prints from both parts were collected from official American, British, and German sources as well as unofficial sources which means the prints were created by government agencies other than the War Department, by commercial firms, by newspapers, or by individuals.

2) 2nd Accession: The second part of the series was acquired from the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Information Management, Department of the Army. The prints were created entirely by the Signal Corps and cover the 1941-1954 period or, more specifically, World War II and the Korean Conflict.

This set of albums was created by the Signal Corps to provide broad subject access to the accretion described in 111-SC. The prints in the albums are mostly enlargements of the corresponding negatives in the accretion. The albums are arranged under eight broad categories. The eight subject headings are: 1) U.S. Army Posts (1930's-1960's); 2) Geographic File (WWII and after); 3) Aerial File (Worldwide); 4) Subject File; 5) Branch of Service File; 6) Unit Files; 7) Army Maneuvers File (late 1930's and early 1940's); 8) Personalities.

In addition to these numbered volumes, there is a group of forty albums referred to as the Army "Special" Collection. These albums contain prints that duplicate photographs from both accessions to 111-SC and depict subjects dating from 1759 through the Korean War.

The records described on the followings provide a pictorial history of the Marine Corps, primarily covering the period 1941 through 1958. Series GC and GS also provide a pictorial record of the history of the Corps from its inception through 1958. These four series are a continuation of the Marine Corps General Photographic File (127-G), which contains the Marine Corps photography in the Still Picture Branch prior to World War II. This accretion consists of the following four series: 127-GK, Marine Corps activities in Korea 1950-58; 127-GW, the Marines in World War II 1941-45; 127-GC, a geographic file covering the activities of the Corps from 1775-1958; and 127-GS, a miscellaneous subject file also covering activities from 1775-1958. There is also an artificial series (127-GR), created by the Corps which consists of images selected from the four series described above and used as a quick "reference" file.

RG127GG, the General Photographic File of the U.S. Marine Corps, 1958-81

The photographs in this series document pictorially Marine Corps activities from 1958 to 1981. Although the coverage includes the period of the war in Vietnam, only a handful of photographs relate to that war. For most part the series covers activities at USMC facilities in the United States. Foreign coverage tend to relate to activities on USMC bases overseas and training exercises.

RG208, RECORDS OF OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION
RG208A, Photographs of World War II Activities, Domestic and Foreign, 1942-45

This series consists of a wide variety of photographic coverage, including training of U.S. forces, combat footage from the major war theaters, and home front activities. There are only two items pertaining to Okinawa.

Box 2:
-32, Pacific War, Okinawa.
-33, Pacific War, Okinawa.

RG208AA, Photographs of the Allies and Axis, 1942-45

Coverage of all phases of U.S. ground, air, and sea operations forms the heart of 208AA. Photographs depict the historic landings at Algiers, Oran, and Casablanca, Sicily, Salerno, Normandy, Aitape, Leyte, Lingayen, Saipan, Guam, Peleliu, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, and other sites.

Approximately one-sixth of the 208AA prints are duplicated in the OWI Outpost service file, 208MO (American Military Operation). Duplicates can also be found in many other OWI series, including 208PU (Notable Personalities, 1942-1945), 208WP (Wartime Personalities, 1942-1945), 208AFP (American and Foreign Personnalities, 1940-1948), 208COKO (Military and Civilian Personnalities and Activities, 1939-1946), 208PCT (Photographs Collected for Transmission to Overseas Outposts, 1942-1945), 208EX (Photographs Used in the News and Features Bureau Exhibits, 1942-1946), and 208NP (Negro Activities in Industry, Government, and the Armed Services, 1941-1945).

RG208MNC, Magazine Section, News and Features Bureau Pictures Selected for Merit, 1942-45
The Picture Division of the New and Features Bureau, Office of War Information (OWI) received original prints from U.S. armed forces and civilian Government agencies, Allied governments and commercial newpicture sources for distribution to other units in OWI. There are only five items pertaining to Okinawa in the series.

- Action, Okinawa (1 item).

Box 6:
- Aviation, Target, Ryukyu Islands (2 items).

Box 7:

RG208MO, Photographs of American Military Operations, 1942-45
The central subject compendium is presented by 208AA (Photographs of the Allies and Axis, 1942-1945). The more select “service” subject file, copies of which went to OWI Outposts to fill common picture needs, constitutes the series described herein. Approximately two-thirds of the images in the service file duplicate images in 208AA; the remaining third are additions. As its title would suggest, 209MO has a somewhat greater accent than 208AA on American activities at home and abroad.

The Administration was organized August 1951, to further the economic, political, and social recovery of the Ryukyu Islands. The photographs, which were put in subject categories and assigned classification numbers by the administration, depict social, economic, political, commercial, and cultural growth on the islands. Some of the notable categories are Legislature, Communism, Education, Science, Elections and the Hungarian Uprising of 1956. The miscellaneous and individual categories contain photographs of U.S. Presidents and political figures attending various affairs as well as some portraits. Included are Richard Nixon, Spiro Agnew, Harry S. Truman, John F. Kennedy, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Hubert Humphrey, George Wallace and Henry Kissinger. Other documented activities are a meeting between Nixon and the Shah of Iran and a golf tournament between Nixon and Bob Hope. Included also in this series are photographs credited to Signal Corps, Coast Guard, and USASC prints which were originated by the Secretary of the Army.

RG260-CRA, Photographs of Activities of the United States Civil Administration, Ryukyu Islands, April 1, 1964 to June 30, 1965

The military government of the Ryukyu Islands was from March 16, 1945 (the date of the invasion by the United States forces) to September 21, 1945, a joint Army-Navy responsibility. The Navy was given exclusive responsibility on September 21, 1945. The Navy's role lasted until July 1, 1946, when responsibility was assigned to the Army's Far East Command (FEC). The U.S. military government for the Ryukyus operated through December 1950, when the military government headquarters became the United States Civil Administration of the Ryukyu Islands (USCAR), in the Far East Command. USCAR continued until reversion of the Ryukyu Islands to Japan in 1972. USCAR was created in August 1951, to further the economic, political, and social recovery of the Ryukyu Islands.

The photographic "proofs" in this series were accumulated by the Public Affairs Office, and provide a small sampling of USCAR activities that are documented in much greater detail in RG260-CR.

The albums contain images showing various types of ceremonies, buildings, classrooms, exhibits, military and civilian groups, Ryukyuan political figures, and other activities of the USCAR. Notable personalities shown include the High Commissioners Albert Watson II and Paul Caraway, and President Sukarno of Indonesia.

RG260-CRX, Captions to Photographs of Activities of the United States Civil Administration, Ryukyu Islands, 1957-72

CINCPAC, U.S. SUBMARINES, WORLD WAR II, WAR PATROL CHARTS

The series consists of World War II war patrol track charts of U.S. Navy submarines in the Pacific whose names began with letters G through W, 1942-45 (1,400 items). The track charts illustrate the path taken by a specific submarine during a particular patrol of a designated area in the Pacific Theater. The series also includes several charts for coordinated attack groups that track movements of three or more submarines participating in a single patrol.

Charts generally record the date, time, and locations of the submarine at various intervals along the patrol and often note sightings and sinking of enemy vessels. Charts for submarines that carried out “lifeguard duty” while on patrol will show the locations where downed aviators were retrieved. Charts for submarines on reconnaissance missions will often include detailed illustrations of shore features. Some charts exhibit decorative calligraphy and whimsical illustrations of mythical sea creatures.

The records are arranged alphabetically by ship name thereunder by patrol number. (From NARA Finding Aid)

NARA Presidential Libraries
Materials in the Library are grouped by type: manuscripts, microfilm, and oral history transcripts. Where manuscript or microfilm entries consist of personal papers, they are listed alphabetically under the name of the person. Entries also identify the person's position or relationship to the Roosevelts, or the pursuits most reflected in his papers. Papers of organizations appear alphabetically under the name of the body that created the materials. Records of government agencies are listed alphabetically under a separate category entitled "Federal Records." Where appropriate, the inclusive dates of available material are given. If there is a National Union Catalog of Manuscript Collections (NUCMC) entry, it is also noted. Those collections for which special restrictions exist are also indicated.

The size of manuscript holdings is listed in linear feet, at about 2,000 pages per foot. Amounts of less than a linear foot are shown as "-1." Microfilm holdings are given in number of reels. Oral history transcripts are noted by the name and identification of the persons interviewed and the number of pages in the transcript.

Cairo Conference, Nov 22-26, 1943. Major participants were Roosevelt, Churchill, and Chiang Kai-shek.
Teheran Conference, Nov 28 – Dec 1, 1943. Major participants were Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin.

MAP ROOM Papers
The White House Map Room was established in January 1942, under the supervision of the Naval Aide, as a military information center and communication office for the president. The files of the Map Room grew very rapidly from the start and on the death of President Roosevelt in April 1945 there were seven cabinets in the Map Room filled to capacity.

President Roosevelt’s Map Room papers consist of two groups of material: first, message sent or received by the President and by his immediate family and advisors; and, second, documents sent to the White House by the War or Navy Department for the President’s information.

THE PAPERS OF HARRY S. TRUMAN, 1910-72

3809 linear feet. President Truman donated his papers to the United States government through a letter of gift dated February 12, 1957, and his will of January 14, 1959. The entire collection totals over 7 million pages. Truman's early life and career in Jackson County as farmer, entrepreneur, soldier, businessman, community leader, politician and local government official is not as well documented in his papers as is his later career. Most of Truman's senatorial papers from his first term, from January 1935 through January 1941, were presumably destroyed after being removed from Truman's office and sent into storage somewhere in the Senate Office Building. The papers from Truman's brief tenure as Vice President are filed with those from his second senatorial term.

An important feature of Truman's papers is a remarkable collection of correspondence with his wife, daughter and other relatives, and of autobiographical and diary-like writings. Truman was throughout his life a prolific letter writer, and his frequent absences from home and family gave him strong reason to write many letters. These are located in the Papers Pertaining to Family, Business and Personal Affairs. The autobiographical and diary-like manuscripts are for the most part in the President's Secretary's Files.

PRESIDENTIAL PAPERS
PRESIDENT'S SECRETARY'S FILES, 1945-53

136 linear feet. President Truman instructed his personal secretary, Rose Conway, to keep several categories of documents, including the most sensitive ones that came to his desk, in a special file located near the Oval Office. The President's Secretary's Files include national security and intelligence information, the President's most sensitive correspondence, his speech file, and the miscellaneous notes and memorandums that constitute his diary.

President Truman instructed his personal secretary, Rose Conway, to keep several categories of documents, including the most sensitive ones that came to his desk, in special files located near the Oval Office. Following his death in 1972, these files were donated to the Truman Library under the provisions of Mr. Truman's will. Designated the President's Secretary's Files (PSF), they include national security and intelligence information, the President's most sensitive correspondence, his speech file, records of his daily appointments, and the miscellaneous notes and memorandums that constitute his diary.

The President's Secretary's Files consist of thirty-two series. There are also multiple subseries in the collection. The first series, the 1) Speech File, is comprised of nine subseries. The first two subseries contain the originals (reading copies) of President Truman's 1948 and 1952 campaign speeches. The third and fourth subseries contain press releases and drafts of these campaign speeches. The fifth and sixth subseries contain the originals, press releases, and drafts of other speeches delivered by Truman during his Presidency. The seventh subseries contains drafts of speeches and related notes in Truman's handwriting. (The President personally wrote drafts of some major speeches, but more frequently, he edited drafts prepared by Clark Clifford or other speechwriters on the White House staff.) The eighth subseries contains miscellaneous information relating to speeches, and the ninth includes speeches delivered by others.

The 2) Political File consists of cables, charts, correspondence, financial records, memorabilia, newspaper clippings, printed materials, speeches, and minutes of meetings pertaining to the Democratic National Committee, elections, Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinners, campaign gifts, candidates, platform strategies, state politics, and the 1948 Presidential campaign. Correspondents include Alben W. Barkley, India Edwards, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Clayton Fritchey, W. Averell Harriman, Adlai Stevenson, Louis Johnson, and Frank McKinney. Notable records within this series include material received from Frank Parks relating to the financing of Richard Nixon's 1950 Senatorial campaign, and requests that President Truman accept the 1952 Democratic nomination for President.

The 3) Press Conference File consists of two subseries, which contain transcripts of President Truman's press conferences from 1945 to 1953 and transcripts of press conferences held by the Secretary of State from 1948 to 1953. The 4) Press Release File also consists of two subseries. The first contains Presidential statements, proclamations, executive orders, appointment announcements, directives, remarks, and texts of letters issued as White House press releases from 1945 to 1953. The second contains press releases of President Truman's radio speeches from 1948 to 1952.

The 5) President's Appointments File is comprised of three subseries. The first subseries contains the President's desk calendars-schedules of his daily appointments that were placed on Truman's desk each day from 1945 to 1951. The desk calendars list the date and time of each visitor's appointment, with handwritten notations concerning additional visitors, cancellations, or time changes. Mrs. Truman's appointments from 1951 to 1952 are also listed. The second subseries contains the President's "daily sheets" from 1945 to 1953. The daily sheets are more detailed than the desk calendars, usually including information about the background of the appointments and the subjects to be discussed. Truman sometimes wrote diary-like notes on the daily sheets describing his day's appointments. Filed along with the daily sheets are correspondence, newspaper clippings, press releases, printed materials, reports, and other documents relating to the appointments. The third subseries contains appointment books listing the President's daily appointments from 1945 to 1953.

The 6) Department of State Radio Bulletins File consists of State Department press releases of foreign policy speeches delivered by the President and the Secretary of State in 1945. The 7) Trip File contains cables, handwritten notes, itineraries, schedules, memorabilia, memorandums, newspaper clippings, digests, photographs, printed materials, and speeches relating to the President's trips from 1945 to 1953. Included is information about Truman's trips to Missouri, Brazil, Canada, Germany, Mexico, the Caribbean, Wake Island, and Key West, Florida. Notable items include the trip log of the President's airplane, the Independence, and documentation of the controversy that resulted when the President's motorcade was allegedly stopped for speeding in Charlottesville, Virginia.

The 8) Gift and Greeting File consists of three subseries, relating in turn to birthday gifts, Christmas gifts, and gifts in general. Included in this series are cards, letters, handwritten notes, and memorabilia pertaining to gifts to the President, Mrs. Truman, and their daughter Margaret from 1945 to 1953. Also included are lists of the gifts received and of those that were shipped from the White House to Missouri when the Trumans returned home.

The 9) General File contains correspondence, charts, graphs, handwritten notes, memorabilia, memorandums, newspaper clippings, photographs, press releases, and printed materials pertaining to a wide variety of topics, including atomic energy, Winston Churchill and his meetings with the President, floods, food, the Inauguration of the President, labor, legislation, meetings, the North Atlantic Treaty, personnel, reorganizations, resignations, security, steel, strikes, taxes, the United Nations, and veterans. This series includes Truman's correspondence with such prominent figures as Omar Bradley, Winston Churchill, Dwight Eisenhower, James Forrestal, W. Averell Harriman, Robert Landry, Max Lowenthal, Douglas MacArthur, George C. Marshall, Matthew Ridgway, and other Cabinet members and Presidential advisers.

The 10) Subject File is the largest series in the PSF, comprising more than one-fifth of the collection. It contains cables, correspondence, handwritten notes, itineraries and schedules, legislation, maps, minutes of meetings, memorandums, newspaper clippings, photographs, press releases, printed materials, reports, speeches, telegrams, and transcripts. The Subject File is comprised of twelve subseries.

The Bureau of the Budget subseries includes documents relating to budget projections, recommendations, appropriations, and expenditures for government agencies during the Truman administration.

The China Lobby subseries contains information about American anti-communists who were strong supporters of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime in China. Known informally as the "China Lobby," this influential group was highly critical of the Truman administration's policies in the Far East. The subseries includes correspondence, financial records, legislation, minutes of meetings, memorandums, newspaper clippings, press releases, printed materials, reports, speeches, and transcripts relating to the activities of the China Lobby.

The Conferences subseries includes correspondence, maps, memorandums, minutes of meetings, press releases, printed materials, reports, and telegrams pertaining to important conferences and meetings with foreign leaders. The conferences documented in this subseries include the United Nations Conference in San Francisco and the Potsdam (Berlin) Conference in 1945; the Paris Conference of Foreign Ministers in 1946; the Moscow and London Conferences of Foreign Ministers in 1947; and the Japanese Peace Treaty Conference in San Francisco in 1951. Also included in this subseries is information concerning President Truman's meetings with British Prime Ministers Clement Attlee and Winston Churchill, French President Vincent Auriol, French Prime Minister Rene Pleven, and Italian Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi. Among the topics discussed in the Conferences subseries are European recovery, Germany, reparations, peace treaties, the Berlin Blockade, the atomic bomb, trade, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), and the Korean War.

The Council of Foreign Ministers subseries consists of bound reproductions of documents pertaining to subjects discussed at the meetings of the Council, including postwar recovery, reparations, peace settlements, disarmament, occupation, demilitarization, denazification, displaced persons, and economic issues.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) subseries includes correspondence, memorandums, newspaper clippings, reports, and printed materials relating to the atomic bomb, communism, criminal activities, espionage, and intelligence activities. This subseries contains many reports submitted to the White House by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who was especially preoccupied with the threat of communist subversion.

The Foreign Affairs subseries contains many important and sensitive materials documenting U.S. foreign policy as it was conducted at the highest level of the government during the Truman administration. The subseries includes cables, correspondence, handwritten notes, itineraries, maps, memorandums, minutes of meetings, newspaper clippings, photographs, press releases, printed materials, reports, schedules, speeches, telegrams, and transcripts pertaining to Asia, statehood for Alaska, military bases, the Berlin Crisis, the occupation of Germany, the Palestine issue, reparations, the Truman Doctrine, the United Nations, the Suez Canal, Latin America, Lend-Lease, and Puerto Rico. Also included is correspondence and documents relating to meetings with government officials from Saudi Arabia, Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Chile, China, Ecuador, France, India, Iran, Iraq, Italy, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Russia, Sweden, Turkey, Yugoslavia, and many other nations. Of particular significance in this subseries are telegrams from the U.S. government to its diplomatic representatives in capitals around the world.

The National Security Council subseries consists of charts, graphs, correspondence, handwritten notes, memorandums, printed materials, and reports relating to the activities of the National Security Council (NSC), which was established in 1947. Among the topics documented in this subseries are the Japanese peace treaty, the ending of the Berlin Airlift, psychological warfare, the United Nations, European defense, the Voice of America, trade, mobilization, military production, intelligence gathering and dissemination, communism, Soviet aggression, the use of Soviet defectors, arms shipments, and the Korean War.

The National Security Council-Atomic subseries contains agendas, cables, charts, graphs, correspondence, handwritten notes, maps, memorandums, minutes of meetings, newspaper clippings, photographs, press releases, printed materials, and reports pertaining to atomic energy and atomic weapons. Included is information on the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in World War II, and the postwar series of tests that led to the development of the hydrogen bomb.

The National Security Council-Meetings subseries consists of agendas, correspondence, memorandums, and reports relating to the 128 meetings of the National Security Council that were held from September 1947 to January 1953. The NSC Papers and other documents in this subseries pertain to a wide variety of foreign policy issues, including relations with the Soviet Union and its satellites, the Truman Doctrine, the Marshall Plan, the Korean War, internal security, the Berlin Crisis, the recognition of Israel, the Point Four program, the United Nations, civil defense, and oil supplies. Much of this material reflects the advice President Truman was receiving from his foreign policy specialists as he grappled with the Cold War. Drafts of "NSC 68"—the most famous NSC Paper, which recommended massive increases in U.S. military spending to counter the worldwide Soviet threat—can be found in this subseries, along with related documents. Summaries of discussions at NSC meetings are filed under "Memoranda for the President."

The Supreme Court subseries contains correspondence and other documents concerning appointments to the U.S. Supreme Court and the President's relations with various Justices, including Harold H. Burton, Robert H. Jackson, and Stanley F. Reed.

The 11) Historical File consists of charts, graphs, correspondence, drafts of legislation, financial records, handwritten notes, legal documents, maps, memorabilia, memorandums, newspaper clippings, photographs, press conference transcripts, press releases, printed materials, reports, and speeches pertaining to Harry S. Truman's life, political career, and Presidency. The Historical File apparently was intended to serve as a documentary record of the Truman administration. It is comprised of four subseries. The Truman Papers subseries contains addresses by the President, corrected by the White House Official Reporter, Jack Romagna, to indicate when Truman departed from the prepared text. (The texts of almost all of Truman's speeches as President have been published by the National Archives in the Public Papers of the Presidents of the United States series.) The Topics subseries contains documents pertaining to the atomic bomb, Cabinet members, China, civil defense, civil rights, Congress, Dwight D. Eisenhower, economic stabilization, foreign policy, Germany, government reorganization, health, the surrender of Japan, the Korean War, George Marshall, conferences with V. I. Molotov, the Potsdam Conference, the Truman Doctrine, and the United Nations. Included in this subseries are many explanatory memorandums by Eben Ayers, a Special Assistant at the White House who was assigned to organize an historical record of the administration. The Presidential Addresses, Letters, and Messages subseries contains documentation of President Truman's correspondence and speeches from 1950 to 1953. The Pre-Presidential subseries includes materials pertaining to Truman's Masonic activities, military career, business career, and service as County Judge and U.S. Senator.

The 12) Korean War File contains cables, correspondence, handwritten notes, itineraries, maps, memorandums, newspaper clippings, press releases, printed materials, reports, and transcripts pertaining to the North Korean invasion of South Korea, financial and military support for South Korea, prisoner of war exchanges, President Truman's meeting with General MacArthur at Wake Island, and the actions of the Joint Chiefs of Staff relating to the Korean conflict. The 13) Frank E. Lowe File also pertains mostly to the Korean War. Lowe, a U.S. Army officer and friend of both President Truman and General MacArthur, was sent to Korea by the President in 1950 to serve as his "eyes and ears" on the scene, and as his personal liaison to the General. This series includes cables, correspondence, handwritten notes, itineraries, maps, memorandums, newspaper clippings, press releases, printed materials, and reports relating to Lowe's mission and his contacts with President Truman.

The 14) Intelligence File includes charts, graphs, correspondence, memorandums, reports, and printed materials. It is comprised of four subseries. The Central Intelligence subseries consists mostly of daily summaries of the military situation in Korea from June 1950 to January 1953, with references to political and economic issues, cease-fire negotiations, and communist propaganda. Also in the subseries are intelligence memorandums concerning Europe, the Truman Doctrine, the Marshall Plan, Israel, Yugoslavia, and China.
The Central Intelligence Reports subseries contains reports prepared by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). These include summaries of foreign radio comments, National Intelligence Estimates, reports from the Office of Reports and Estimates (ORE) and the Office of Scientific Intelligence (OSI), and Situation Reports. These reports deal with a wide variety of foreign policy and national security issues, such as atomic energy, Soviet capabilities and intentions, Middle Eastern oil, the Voice of America, German and Japanese rearmament, Indochina, regional conflicts, and the political or military situations in many European, Asian, African, and Latin American nations.

The Army Intelligence-Korea subseries consists of situation reports on the Korean conflict, focusing on weather, troop movements, engagements with the enemy, bombing, and casualties. The Publications subseries contains reports and printed materials relating to intelligence estimates of the United Kingdom, U.S. policy in Korea, U.S. relations with the Soviet Union, and Soviet intelligence and counterintelligence.

The 15) Mr. President File consists of correspondence, handwritten notes, memorandums, newspaper clippings, press releases, printed materials, and transcripts pertaining to the book Mr. President, a collection of President Truman's personal letters, diaries, and papers that was published in 1952. Included in this series are letters from persons who received autographed copies or who enjoyed the book, corrected drafts of the manuscript, transcripts of interviews, and typed copies of longhand notes by Truman that were published in the book.

The 16) List of Correspondence File consists of lists of correspondence sent to White House Appointments Secretary Matthew J. Connelly, Administrative Assistant Donald S. Dawson, and the White House Central Files between 1946 and 1952. The 17) Address Books File contains addresses of individuals compiled from 1948 to 1954. The 18) Congressional Hearings File consists of reports and transcripts pertaining to committee hearings, mostly relating to alleged corruption in the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The 19) Political Campaign Material File includes charts, graphs, newspaper clippings, press releases, and reports. It is comprised of two subseries: the first containing Dwight D. Eisenhower's 1952 Presidential campaign speeches and statements, with related information; and the second containing miscellaneous research information about other campaigns, Congressional voting records, and Richard M. Nixon.

The 20) Diaries File contains entries in bound diaries made by President Truman in 1947, 1949, and 1951-53. Truman's diary entries pertain to such topics as the death of his mother, the firing of General MacArthur, the death of King George VI of Great Britain, and the inauguration of President Eisenhower. The 21) Miscellaneous File includes reports, correspondence, and memorandums concerning President Truman's speeches, the military, and the United States Lines Company case. The 22) Truman Library Foundation File consists of correspondence, handwritten notes, memorandums, and reports pertaining to fundraising, potential foundation board members, and the location and design of the Truman Library.

The 24) Biographical File consists of correspondence, handwritten notes, newspaper clippings, printed materials, and speeches pertaining to President Truman's life. This series includes an autobiographical sketch by Mr. Truman, articles, genealogical information, and copies of Truman's stationery. The 25) Martha E. Truman File contains correspondence from friends and family concerning the final illness and death of Truman's mother, and a copy of her will. The 26) White House File includes correspondence, handwritten notes, memorandums, newspaper clippings, photographs, press releases, and transcripts pertaining to the renovation of the White House and related matters.

The 27) Personal File consists of cables, correspondence, handwritten notes, memorabilia, memorandums, newspaper clippings, press releases, printed materials, and reports. Included in this series is Truman's correspondence with personal friends and with such prominent persons as Eleanor Roosevelt. Other materials in the series pertain to club memberships, Battery D, the Inauguration of the President, the 35th Division Association, Bess and Margaret Truman, Queen Elizabeth, personal expenses, gifts, Hitler stationery, Independence Square, John Ingalls, Louis Johnson, Andrew Jackson, Thomas Jefferson, Arthur Knock, James Garfield, the Masons, Pope Pius XII, the Potsdam Conference, Dred Scott, and the Truman home on Delaware Street in Independence.

The 28) Congressional Medal of Honor Awards File consists of citations for Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine recipients of the Medal of Honor between 1945 and 1952. The 29) Family Correspondence File contains cables, correspondence, handwritten notes, memorandums, newspaper clippings, photographs, and press releases relating to Truman and his family. Included in this series is correspondence between Truman and relatives such as Louis W. Truman, Mary Jane Truman, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Truman, J. Vivian Truman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wallace, Fred Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, and Madge Gates Wallace.

The 30) Longhand Notes File contains handwritten notes by Truman pertaining to various topics. Many of the notes are diary-like entries describing the events of the President's day; others contain Truman's candid observations on history, politics, and human nature. Included in this series are the "Pickwick Papers," autobiographical notes written by Truman during the early 1930s on the stationery of the Pickwick Hotel in Kansas City. At that time, Truman was Presiding Judge of the Jackson County Court. Other notes date from after the end of the Truman administration in 1953. The subjects discussed in Truman's longhand notes include Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Soviet Union, World War II, Herbert Hoover, the Potsdam Conference, the 1948 and 1952 elections, Louis Johnson, the Wake Island Conference with General Macarthur, Paul Hume, Tom Pendergast, the Korean War, the 35th Division, Adlai Stevenson, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Pete the Squirrel, Joseph Stalin, World War I, term limits, Cabinet members, Point Four, and public service. The notes date from 1930 to 1955, but many of them are undated. The Longhand Notes File is comprised of four subseries, consisting of Truman's pre-Presidential, Presidential, post-Presidential, and undated notes.

The 31) Summaries of Conversations File consists of summaries of telephone conversations derived from FBI wiretaps on the telephones of Thomas Corcoran and Edward F. Prichard, Jr. between 1945 and 1948. "Tommy the Cork" Corcoran, a prominent Washington lawyer, had been an influential adviser to President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Prichard was an official with the Federal Loan Agency and the Treasury Department. No documentation of who authorized the wiretaps or why they were ordered has been found in the manuscript collections of the Truman Library.

The 32) Ernest H. Gruening File consists of correspondence, memorandums, and reports, arranged in two subseries. The first subseries contains FBI reports and memorandums regarding the alleged communist leanings of Gruening, who served as Governor of Alaska Territory during the Truman administration. The second subseries contains similar reports prepared by FBI Special Agents who worked on the case.

WHITE HOUSE CENTRAL FILES, 1945-53

2,797 linear feet. Includes the following series created by the White House Central Files unit, and contains documents sent to the unit by the President and the White House staff:

Official File, 1945-53

1,032 linear feet. Composed of about 3,500 numbered files pertaining to government departments and agencies, the operations of the Executive Office of the President, individual countries, broad subject areas, and organizations and individuals having business with the federal government. The documents in this file were interpreted by the staff of the White House Central Files as pertaining to the official business of the government of the United States. A detailed description and alphabetical index are available online.

The Official File (OF) is one of the four principal series within the White House Central Files, the other three being the President's Personal File, the General File, and the Confidential File. The Official File contains materials interpreted by the White House Central Files unit as being primarily official or semi-official in nature. These materials were sent to the White House Central Files unit by the various White House offices when they were considered to be no longer necessary for the day to day conduct of business. The companion President's Personal File (PPF), in contrast, contains materials interpreted as being political, social, or ceremonial in character.

Since documents received by the White House often contained a mixture of personal and official information, the distinction between the Official File and the President's Personal File is very imprecise. A third series within the White House Central Files, the General File, acts as an index, primarily by name, to both the Official File and the President's Personal File.

President Truman's Official File contains 3,480 numbered files pertaining to Government departments and agencies, the operations of the Executive Office of the President, individual countries, broad subject areas, and organizations and individuals having business with the Government. The files are elaborately cross-referenced both among other files in the Official File, and among the files of the President's Personal File and the General File. A single original document may be represented by five or six cross-references distributed under file headings devoted to agencies, individuals, countries, and subjects. The cross-references typically give a document's correspondents, date and purpose, as well as other appropriate information. A researcher may follow these cross-reference trails through the three linked file series in search of related documents. The file listings for the Official File are always for numbered files, never for boxes. A file number may represent one folder or multiple boxes.

President's Personal File, 1945-53

335 linear feet. Composed primarily of files on individuals and organizations who were in correspondence with the White House on matters interpreted by the staff of the White House Central Files as being more political, social or ceremonial in character than those treated in the documents filed in the Official File. The President's Personal File also contains a small number of files on broad subject areas and on the President and his family. Two especially large files are PPF 9, Gifts to the President, and PPF 200 and 200a, which hold correspondence commending or criticizing the President on different issues. A detailed description and alphabetical index are available online.

General File, 1945-53

1,391 linear feet. Composed of materials not considered by the White House Central Files unit to be important enough to be classified by subject or name and filed in the Official File or President's Personal File. The General File also contains cross-references by name and organization to correspondence filed in the Official File and President's Personal File and to correspondence that was referred to other agencies and departments for response. The General File serves as an index, primarily by name, to most of the materials received by the White House Central Files unit, and in particular to all the documents that were filed in the Official File and the President's Personal File. Arranged alphabetically by name and organization.

Confidential File, 1938 (1945)-53

28.7 linear feet. Security-classified documents and other documents that in the opinion of the White House Central Files staff required special protection were put in the Confidential File. About a third of the file is composed of material relating to the State Department, and most of the remainder is filed alphabetically under the names of other government agencies. A series of cross-reference sheets serves as an index to the entire file.

The Confidential File includes, together with the President's Secretary's File, the most sensitive of Harry S. Truman's presidential papers. It is composed of materials that were retired by the President and his staff to the White House Central Files, and were felt by that office to require special protection. Defense and foreign policy related topics are particularly strongly documented by the Confidential File.

The Confidential File was maintained by the White House staff as a component of the White House Central Files. It consists of those documents in the custody of the White House Central Files that were considered to have a special sensitivity and thus to require greater protection than was accorded the rest of the files. It includes, among various other categories of sensitivity, documents which contained security classified information, and those concerning appointments to Government positions and other personnel matters.

When President Truman left the White House in January 1953, the Confidential File was moved along with the rest of the White House Central Files to the Jackson County Courthouse in Kansas City, Missouri. On the recommendation of his aide David Lloyd, who thought he should have the Confidential File near at hand when he was working on his memoirs, Truman ordered it moved to his office in the Federal Reserve Building in Kansas City. When all of Truman's papers were moved to the Harry S. Truman Library in 1959, the Confidential File was placed in Truman's office suite in the Library and was not included in his initial donation of his presidential papers to the Government. It finally came into Government custody after Truman's death in 1972, according to the provisions of his will. It was opened for research in 1976.

The Confidential File consists of three series, a Subject File, a State Department File, and a Cross Reference Sheets file. Topics covered in the Subject File include lend-lease, the mutual defense program, the unification of the armed services, the coal strike of 1950, and the Korean War. The subjects are arranged alphabetically, with the exception that a group of thirteen lettered folders is filed at the end of the series. These folders include documents on a small number of subjects, such as Communism, national defense, politics, Palestine, strategic materials, and the U.S.S.R. The large amount of material relating to the State Department which the White House Central Files office chose to place in the Confidential File has been separated into its own series, the State Department File, which consists of four subseries.

The first is the Correspondence File, including thirty-three folders of correspondence arranged chronologically. Information about the subjects covered in these folders has been added by the Truman Library staff, in brackets, to most of the folder titles in the subseries. A small group of subject files has been gathered at the end of the subseries.

Second is the Myron C. Taylor File. Taylor served as Personal Representative of the President at Vatican City from 1939 to 1950. The subseries includes correspondence between Presidents Roosevelt and Truman and Pope Pius XII, and correspondence concerning Taylor's assessments of conditions in several European countries. The files are arranged chronologically, from 1946 to 1952, with the exception that a folder of reports to the President, 1940 to 1949, begins the subseries. Also included in the subseries are files from the office of William D. Hassett. Hassett, who was Truman's correspondence secretary, served also as his unofficial liaison with Myron Taylor's embassy in the Vatican.

His files are arranged in alphabetical order. The third subseries in the State Department File is the International Trade Agreements File. This file is arranged chronologically and includes material on specific countries, commodities and international agreements. The folder titles have been augmented by the Truman Library staff to include information, in brackets, on the major topics covered in each folder. The fourth subseries is the Reports and Publications File, which is dominated by galley proofs for a report on China.

The Confidential File's third series is the Cross Reference Sheets file. This series, consisting of cross reference sheets, is in effect an index, created by the White House Central Files office, to the Confidential File. The cross reference sheets include abstracts of the documents referred to and indication of the documents' locations within the Confidential File. The reference to location is often not very precise, to "State" for example, which identifies only approximately where the document may be found. In such cases, the documents are probably located in a series or group of folders in which material is filed chronologically. A document whose location is described in a cross reference as "State," for example, is probably located in the correspondence subseries of the State Department File. There is no cross referencing between the Confidential File and the rest of the White House Central Files. The Cross Reference Sheets file is arranged alphabetically by subject or name.

Permanent File, 1945-53

3 linear feet. Documents that in the judgment of the White House Central Files staff contained information that might constitute precedents for the operation of the White House Office were put in the Permanent File. The topics covered in this file range from the powers of the President to the White House garage. Arranged alphabetically by subject.

Public Opinion Mail, 1945-53

7 linear feet. The White House Central Files staff would sometimes remove public opinion mail from the Official File and President's Personal File and retire it to a segregated location. Most commonly, this material was voluminous and composed of very strong statements for or against certain policies or points of view. The staff of the White House Central Files disposed of most of this material, but they retained the sample that constitutes this series. The material in the series includes many telegrams, printed petitions, form postcards, and also some correspondence. About half the material relates to Palestine and Israel. Other topics covered included the Taft-Hartley law, a proposed national day of prayer, the execution of the "Martinsville Seven," the Fair Employment Practices Committee, and civil rights.
Miscellaneous File, 1945-53

7 linear feet. This file is composed of small groups of material that were maintained or stored by the White House Central Files unit but were not incorporated into any of the main files. The file has four series: card indexes, 1945-53, listing people who received Presidential autographs or photographs and those who received acknowledgments from the White House for one reason or another; form letters used by the White House; agency reports submitted to the National Security Resources Board regarding the recommendations of the President's Materials Policy Commission, 1952; and background material regarding Truman's 1952 campaign trips, 1952.

STAFF MEMBER AND OFFICE FILES

391 linear feet. Composed of materials from components of the White House Office and, in one instance, the Executive Office of the President that for one reason or another were not integrated with the White House Central Files filing system. In the case of the office files of individual staff members, the materials were in some instances retired from individual offices to the White House Central Files unit and maintained together under the names of individual officials; in other instances the materials were removed from the offices when the Truman administration ended and shipped to Kansas City together with the rest of Truman's papers. These individual staff files are those materials that departing staff did not choose to take away with them. The files should be used in conjunction with the collections of personal papers of many of the same individuals that the library has in its holdings. These collections, called "papers" rather than "files," are listed under the heading "Personal Papers and Organizational Records." The files that carry the names of offices, such as Psychological Strategy Board Files or White House Social Office Files, are listed first and are followed by the files that are named for individual staff members. Two artificially created file groups, the Korean War File and the Press Release File, are listed together with the files named for offices.

Korean War File, 1947-52

8 linear feet. Copies of State and Defense Department documents relating to the Korean war, made and sent to the White House at the request of President Truman.

It includes reports, correspondence, memoranda and other documents.

The Korean War File, also known as "Selected Records of the Department of State and the Department of Defense relating to the Korean War," is part of the Staff Member and Office Files of the Harry S. Truman Papers. It consists of State and Defense Department documents relating to the Korean War that were copied and sent to the White House at the request of President Truman.

The Korean War File consists of two series. The first, the Department of State Series, comprises most of the collection and is further divided into four subseries. The Background File Subseries contains a list of the State Department documents in the collection; various background reports on Korean history and U.S. policy toward Korea, including Lieutenant General Albert C. Wedemeyer's report to the President on his 1947 mission to China and Korea; and letters, memoranda, and telegrams concerning the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Korea before 1950. The Chronology File Subseries contains monthly reports summarizing the major military, diplomatic, and political events of the Korean conflict from June 1950 to May 1952, prepared by the State Department's Division of Historical Policy Research.

The Document File Subseries contains fifty-two reports to the United Nations Security Council on U.N. Command Operations in Korea from July 1950 to November 1952; memoranda summarizing periodic briefings on the situation in Korea that were conducted by the State Department for the ambassadors of allied countries from January 1951 to November 1952; copies of the Korea Bulletin, a daily State Department intelligence report produced from July 1950 to September 1950; State Department publications on the U.S. role in the Korean conflict; and daily reports summarizing the world reaction to events in Korea from June 1950 through August 1950.

The Topical File Subseries, which comprises more than half of the collection, contains telegrams, letters, memoranda, press releases, and reports pertaining to a number of Korea-related topics, including: efforts by India to mediate the conflict; the neutralization of Formosa; military incidents involving the Soviet Union; the Wake Island conference; Chinese intervention in the war; the possible use of atomic weapons; the dismissal of General MacArthur; Communist charges of bacteriological and chemical warfare; and the armistice negotiations.

The Department of Defense Series includes an orientation report on the military situation in the Far East, prepared for the Secretary of Defense and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in June 1950, shortly before the outbreak of the Korean War. The rest of the series consists of the contents of eight volumes entitled Pertinent Papers on Korean Situation, containing copies of Defense Department correspondence and other documents relating to the war.

Other materials at the Truman Library which relate to this collection include the following personal papers collections:

Map Room File, 1945

1 linear foot. The Map Room was established during World War II on the ground floor of the White House. It was primarily a communications center. Security-classified military and diplomatic messages sent to the White House by the State, War and Navy Departments and by foreign governments were filed in the Map Room File. The Truman Library's Map Room File, which completes the much larger file group at the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, covers the period from April 12, 1945, until the end of the war. The Map Room was closed as a White House Office in May 1946. Arranged chronologically.

The White House Map Room was established in January 1942, under the supervision of the Naval Aide, as a military information center and communication office for the President. Security-classified military and diplomatic messages sent to the White House by United States and foreign political and military leaders were filed in the Map Room. The military officers assigned to the Map Room were responsible for decoding messages addressed to the President as well as encoding messages from the White House to the President while the President was away from the White House. Officers assigned to the Map Room also maintained up-to-the-minute maps, charts and files concerning all the active theaters of combat. The Truman Library's Map Room File, which completes the much larger file group at the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, covers the period from April 12, 1945 through January 1946.

The Map Room File contains messages between the White House; the State, War, and Navy Departments; and foreign governments pertaining to the latter stages World War II and post-war Europe and Asia. It consists of three series. The Incoming Messages series contains top secret, secret, and confidential messages sent to the White House by diplomatic and military officials. This series is arranged in Top Secret folders and in Secret and Confidential folders, and thereunder chronologically. The Outgoing Messages series contains top secret, secret, and confidential messages sent by the White House to diplomatic and military officials. This series is also arranged in Top Secret folders and in Secret and Confidential folders, and thereunder chronologically. The London Files series contains messages from the President to the British Prime Minister and the American Embassy, and is arranged chronologically.

The officials whose exchanges of messages are documented in this collection include: President Harry S. Truman; Secretary of State James Byrnes; British Prime Ministers Winston Churchill and Clement Atlee; Generalissimo Joseph Stalin of the Soviet Union; Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of China; W. Averell Harriman, U.S. Ambassador to the Soviet Union; Patrick Hurley, U.S. Ambassador to China; and presidential aides Harry Hopkins and Edwin Locke, Jr.

National Security Council Files, 1947-53

8 linear feet. This file, which was found in the custody of the Central Intelligence Agency in about 1980, was transferred in 1981 to the Truman Library. It is thought to be the file of the small permanent National Security Council staff in Truman's White House Office. It has four series: one containing copies of Central Intelligence Agency documents, one containing National Security Council Determinations regarding U.S. policy toward foreign nations' trade with Communist nations, a chronological file of outgoing National Security Council correspondence, and a subject file. Many of the documents in this file are also in the National Security Council series of the President's Secretary's File.

The National Security Council File contains documentation of the work performed by that agency from its founding in July, 1947 through the end of the Truman administration in January, 1953. This file, found in the custody of the Central Intelligence Agency about 1980, was transferred to the Truman Library in 1981. Apparently, it is the office file of the small permanent National Security Council staff located in Truman's White House Office. It is comprised of five series: one containing copies of Central Intelligence Agency documents; one containing National Security Council Determinations with respect to U.S. policy toward foreign nations' trade with Communist nations; a chronological file of outgoing National Security Council correspondence; a set of bound volumes entitled "Policies of the United States of America Relating to the National Security;" and a subject file arranged in alphabetical order. Many of the documents in this file are also located in the National Security Council series of the President's Secretary's Files.

The National Security Council (NSC) was established by the National Security Act of 1947 (Public Law 80 - 253, 61 Stat. 496; 50 U.S.C. 401, et seq.), which was approved on July 26, 1947, as amended by the National Security Act Amendments of 1949 (63 Stat. 579; 50 U.S.C. 401 et seq.). This legislation also provided for a Secretary of Defense, a National Military Establishment, the Central Intelligence Agency, and the National Security Resources Board.

The NSC, which was created under the chairmanship of the President, was composed of the following seven permanent members: the President; the Secretaries of State, Defense, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force; and the Chairman of the National Security Resources Board. The President was authorized to designate "from time to time" the Secretaries of other executive departments and the Chairmen of the Munitions Board and the Research and Development Board to attend meetings of the NSC. Additionally, the Director of the new Central Intelligence Agency was to report to the NSC, and he attended meetings as an observer and resident adviser, but he was not a member of the NSC.

Later, as part of the Amendments Act of 1949, the three service were removed from the NSC, while the Vice-President was added as a member, and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff was added as an advisor.

At this same time, the NSC was placed in the Executive Office of the President. Originally, the NSC Staff was to be headed by a civilian Executive Secretary, appointed by the President, with only one other professional staff member, an Assistant to the Executive Secretary. Additional top staff members were to be consultants detailed from the three armed services and the State Department. Eventually, these consultants came to be members of the Senior Staff Group, acting as designated agency representatives. There were only two NSC Executive Secretaries during the Truman administration. Admiral Sidney W. Souers served as the first Executive Secretary from September, 1947, until January, 1950, at which time he was succeeded by his assistant, James S. Lay, Jr., who served until Truman left office in January, 1953.

The NSC is the President's principal forum for considering national security and foreign policy matters with his senior national security advisors and cabinet officials. Its function is to advise the President with respect to the integration of domestic, foreign, and military policies relating to the national security. The NSC also serves as the President's principal arm for coordinating these policies among various government departments and agencies in matters involving the national security. The duties of the NSC are to assess and appraise the objectives, commitments, and risks of the United States in relation to actual and potential military power, for the purpose of making recommendations to the President, with respect to foreign policy and national security. [The Appendix contains a chronology of significant foreign policy events that took place during Harry S. Truman's presidency (1945-1953)]. The NSC also considers policies on matters of common interest to the departments and agencies of the Government concerned with the national security, and makes recommendations to the President. [For further information regarding the establishment and workings of the National Security Council, the reader may refer to the NSC's History of the National Security Council, 1947 - 1997].

Among the significant documents in this collection, the Central Intelligence Agency File contains copies of intelligence reports and other memoranda prepared for the President; these include daily bulletins reporting on the situation in Korea from 1950 to 1953. Also in this series are memoranda for the Director of Central Intelligence and other officials, dealing with Cold War trouble spots and other national security concerns.

The National Security Council Determinations File contains memoranda regarding implementation by the NSC of Section 1302 of the Third Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1951, which required countries receiving economic or financial assistance from the United States to certify that they were not exporting specified commodities to Soviet Bloc countries. A number of nations receiving U.S. aid, including India, Ireland, Israel, Egypt, Germany, Japan, and various NATO allies, are among the subjects of these memoranda.

The Chronological File contains copies of NSC staff correspondence regarding personnel and organizational matters, public and governmental inquiries and arrangements for NSC meetings. Included in this series are drafts of proposed resolutions and directives relating to covert activities and other matters.

The Policies of the United States of America Relating to the National Security contains five bound volumes of policy position papers relating to various countries (as approved by the President upon the advice of the NSC or as noted by the NSC), as well as papers pertaining to actions by the President and the NSC, NSC organization and procedures, and intelligence matters. As of January 4, 2001, all but the second bound volume in the Policies of the United States series are still classified.

The Subject File contains memoranda and reports on various foreign policy and national security issues. Included are reports by the Air Intelligence Division; materials relating to atomic energy; CIA comments on the Gray Report, which dealt with the Psychological Strategy Board; materials pertaining to the Committee on National Security Organization; and staff reports on Palestine.

The various series within the NSC File are arranged as follows: the Central Intelligence Agency File is arranged alphabetically by folder title, with similarly titled folders further arranged chronologically; the National Security Council Determinations are arranged numerically (#1-22); the Chronological File is arranged as it name suggests, the Policies of the United States File is arranged chronologically by numeric volumes; and the Subject File is arranged alphabetically by folder title.

Other manuscript holdings at the Truman Library that relate to this collection include the following files in the Harry S.
Generally speaking, there is more material concerning the operation of the NSC during the Truman administration in the President's Secretary's Files than in the National Security Council Files. The Truman Library's collections, however, do not contain the complete records of the NSC for this period. A more complete record of NSC operation during the Truman administration may be found in the Records of the National Security Council [NSC] (Record Group 273), 1947 - 69, which are available at the National Archives of the United States, in the Washington, D.C. area.

Also relevant are the personal papers of S. Everett Gleason, Frank N. Roberts, and Sidney W. Souers, as well as the following transcripts of oral history interviews at the Truman Library, which include discussions of aspects of the National Security Council:

<Series Descriptions>

Boxes 1-4, Central Intelligence Agency File, 1947-1951

Naval Aide to the President Files, 1945-53

13 linear feet. After the Map Room was closed in 1946, the Naval Aide's office received the security classified and other sensitive diplomatic and military communications that had formerly been sent to the Map Room. The file includes some of President Truman's communications with foreign government leaders and American diplomats; communications between the White House and Truman's headquarters during the Potsdam Conference; State Department briefing papers for the President; messages concerning the Korean war received from the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Commander in Chief of the Far East; and correspondence concerning the tenure of service of individual U.S. Navy servicemen. Most of the material in the file dates from 1945 to 1948.

The Naval Aide to the President Files date from 1945 to 1953. After the White House Map Room was closed in 1946, the Naval Aide's office received the security classified and other sensitive diplomatic and military communications that had formerly been sent to the Map Room. The Naval Aide was involved in intelligence briefings for the president and conferences on urgent matters relating to the military and diplomatic fields.

During the Truman Administration, the Naval Aides to the President were James K. Vardaman, Jr. (1945-1946), Clark M. Clifford (1946), James H. Foskett (1946-1948), and Robert L. Dennison (1948-1953).

The Naval Aide to the President Files include: documents relating to the Berlin (Potsdam) Conference; communication files containing correspondence to and from the President; subject files pertaining to individual countries, topics, and organizations; copies of the War Department Intelligence Review which was a periodical that presented current intelligence developments; State Department Briefs containing summaries of confidential telegrams with foreign developments as reported by the State Department; and Naval Service Case files which pertain to military personnel.

The Berlin (Potsdam) Conference File, which is primarily arranged chronologically, contains the agenda prepared by the State Department; background information; territorial studies; discussion papers; Joint Chiefs of Staff recommendations; Combined Chiefs of Staff papers and meeting minutes; Heads of Government meeting minutes; President Truman's correspondence with Winston Churchill, Clement Attlee, Chiang Kai-shek, Joseph Stalin and the President of Poland; miscellaneous papers and reports; conference reports and press releases; and communications to and from the Map Room.

The Communications File, which is arranged alphabetically, contains correspondence between President Truman and individuals including Clement Attlee, Chiang Kai-Shek, Winston Churchill, Averell Harriman, Patrick Hurley, George Marshall, Joseph Stalin and John Winant.

The Subject File, which is arranged alphabetically, contains information about many aspects of U.S. Foreign policy during the Truman years. Included is material pertaining to the Council of Foreign Ministers; the surrenders of Germany and Japan; the Japanese Peace Treaty Conference of 1951; the Korean War; and the United Nations.

The War Department Intelligence Review File, which is arranged chronologically, contains copies of a periodical which presented current intelligence reflecting developments of military interest in the fields of politics, economics, sociology, technical sciences and military affairs.

The State Department Briefs File, which is arranged chronologically, contains summaries of confidential telegrams to the U.S. Department of State containing foreign developments as reported by State Department officials.

The Naval Service Case File, which is arranged alphabetically, contains correspondence, cables, memoranda and newspaper clippings with information pertaining to naval personnel including discharges, military discipline, retirement, and personnel missing in action or killed in action.

Psychological Strategy Board Files, 1951-53
22 linear feet. The Psychological Strategy Board was composed of the Under Secretary of State, the Deputy Secretary of Defense, and the Director of Central Intelligence. It reported to the National Security Council. A Director headed a small permanent staff. The PSB planned psychological operations and coordinated their implementation by the concerned government agencies. The file contains subject, country and name series, all organized within a War Department decimal filing scheme.

The Psychological Strategy Board (PSB) was established by Presidential Directive of April 4, 1951 "to authorize and provide for the more effective planning, coordination, and conduct within the framework of approved national policies, of psychological operations."

The PSB was composed of the Undersecretary of State, the Deputy Secretary of Defense and the Director of Central Intelligence, or their designated representatives. The founding Presidential Directive instructed the PSB to report to the National Security Council "on the Board's activities on the evaluation of the national psychological operations, including implementation of approved objectives, policies, and programs by the departments and agencies concerned."

The Psychological Strategy Board succeeded the State-War-Navy Coordinating Committee, which had been established during World War II to coordinate the Government's psychological warfare efforts. During the Truman Presidency, the PSB, in addition to its inherited coordination role, conducted planning for psychological operations undertaken by its constituent agencies. It did not conduct operations of its own.

According to Edward P. Lilly, the PSB's historian, the Board's basic function was to prevent interagency rivalries from developing among the agencies involved in psychological operations. Seventeen meetings of the PSB's constituent agency representatives were held during the last year and a half of Truman's administration.

During the Eisenhower presidency, the PSB became purely a coordinating body; all planning was discontinued. The Board was terminated by Executive Order 10483 of September 3, 1953, and its functions were transferred to the Operations Coordinating Board.

The Psychological Strategy Board had three directors during Truman's presidency. Gordon Gray was the first director, serving from June 1951 to May 1952. Raymond H. Allen, the second director, served from May to September 1952. Third was Admiral Alan Kirk, who served the remainder of Truman's term. Charles E. Johnson was the Board's executive officer. Besides the office of the Director, the staff of the Psychological Strategy Board included the following offices: the Executive; Plans and Policy; Coordination; and Evaluation and Review.

The files of the Psychological Strategy Board were in the physical custody of the Central Intelligence Agency until they were turned over to the National Archives in about 1980. They were then divided chronologically into Truman and Eisenhower administration periods, and transferred to the appropriate Presidential Libraries.

The Truman Library's portion was opened for research in 1981. In December 1988, the PSB files were temporarily closed and were subsequently reviewed by the Central Intelligence Agency. Several hundred formerly open documents were restricted because of security classified content as a result of this review. The files were reopened for research in October 1989.

The PSB files, with the exception of a single folder of material filed under Gordon Gray's name, are arranged according to the filing scheme described in the War Department Decimal File System (Washington, D.C., revised edition, 1943). Each classification group, or "class," has been treated in the description of the PSB files as a series.

Probably the two most important series are Class 000--General, which includes such classifications as 040 Agencies, 080 Societies and Associations, 091 Countries, and 091.4 Peoples; and Class 300--Administration, which includes such classifications as 300.6 Memoranda and Notes, 334 Boards, Commissions, Committees, Councils and Missions, 337 Conferences, Military and Naval and Others, which includes minutes, agendas and related documentation for the PSB's staff and board meetings, 381 National Defense, and 387.4 Armistice, which includes material about the Korean War. About 85% of the volume of the PSB files, apart from the Indexing and Suspense Form Series, is contained in these two classes.

The Indexing and Suspense Form series is composed entirely of forms of this name, which were used by the Psychological Strategy Board staff to provide cross references to their files. The origins of the forms were often, or perhaps even usually, attached to the fronts of the documents being referenced, and copies were then distributed throughout the files as appropriate. Copies were also put into this Indexing and Suspense Form series, which thus acts as an index to the PSB files. Not all of the documents cross referenced are present in these files.

The Truman Library staff does not know where such documents are, nor why, if they were ever part of the PSB files, they were removed from them. The Indexing and Suspense forms are arranged by the War Department decimal file system. They are filed disproportionately in two decimal files: 040 Executive Departments of the United States Government, and 201 Personal Records. The documents referenced are described by correspondents, dates and subject content.

A list of the specific War Department decimal file system classifications used in this collection of Psychological Strategy Board files is appended to this finding aid.

The Truman Library staff has selectively annotated the folder-title list to try to give some definition to uninformative folder titles. Acronyms and code names have been identified whenever possible. All Library staff additions made to folder titles received from the White House appear in brackets. The document designation "NSC 10/5," which appears frequently in the folder titles in this collection, has not been defined or further described; all information regarding this designation was, at the time this finding aid was prepared, security classified.
<Series Description>

Box 1, Gordon Gray Chronological File, 1951

Correspondence relating to staff organization and to the meetings of the Psychological Strategy Board during Gray's directorship. This file, which is about 75 pages in volume, appears to have been kept personally by Gray; it was not filed under the filing scheme employed with the rest of the PSB files. Arranged chronologically.

Boxes 1-18, Class 000—General, 1951-53

This is the main subject file of the PSB files. It consists of correspondence, reports and printed material relating to every area of Psychological Strategy Board activity. The General Class includes several important classifications: Executive Departments of the United States Government, which includes files on the Air Force, the Central Intelligence Agency, the Economic Cooperation Administration, the Mutual Security Agency, Radio Free Europe, the State Department, and the Voice of America; 080 Societies and Associations, which includes files on the American Legion, the Ford Foundation, the Red Cross, and the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia; and 090 Geographical and Political Divisions, which includes files on Germany, the Soviet Union, National Security Council report number 10/5, and approximately fifty people. The book which described the filing scheme used for the Psychological Strategy Board's files, War Department Decimal File System, is filed at the beginning of this series.

Box 18, Class 100—Finance and Accounting, 1951-53

Correspondence and reports relating to the estimate of the Psychological Strategy Board's budget for fiscal year 1954, and to the intelligence operations of the State Department.

Boxes 18-21, Class 200—Personal, 1951-53

Correspondence, reports, applications for employment and newspaper clippings concerning the personnel procedures of the Psychological Strategy Board.

Boxes 21-35, Class 300—Administration, 1951-53

Correspondence, reports and newspaper clippings relating to the methods and procedures employed in the operations of the Psychological Strategy Board. The series includes files on staff members Raymond B. Allen, C. Tracy Barnes, Gordon Gray and Palmer Putnam; the history of the statues of the Government's psychological programs. Classification 334 Boards, Commissions, Committees, Councils, and Missions includes files on the Committee on the Present Danger, the Air Force Special Weapons Project, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the National Security Council, and the United Nations. Classification 337 Conferences contains minutes of the staff meetings of the Psychological Strategy Board. Other important files in this series document the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project, guerrilla warfare, the Rosenberg case, the escapee program, and psychological operations in Korea.

Boxes 35-36, Class 400—Supplies, Services and Equipment, 1951-53

Correspondence, reports and newspaper clippings relating both to certain administrative procedures, and to projects and studies relating to specific supplies, services and equipment. Topics covered include Soviet agriculture, narcotics, oil cartels, and the psychological effects of atomic energy.

Box 36, Class 500—Transportation, 1952

Memoranda and reports relating to the maintenance of the Psychological Strategy Board's station wagon.

Box 36, Class 600—Buildings and Grounds, 1952

Memoranda and reports relating to the Psychological Strategy Board's air conditioning and alarm systems, and to the Board's liaison with the Telecommunications Policy Committee.

Box 36, Class 700—Medicine, Hygiene, and Sanitation, 1952

Correspondence, reports and newspaper clippings relating to an epidemic in Korea, and to a Communist biological warfare propaganda campaign.

Box 36, Class 800—Rivers, Harbors and Waterways, 1952

Correspondence, reports, and newspaper clippings relating to the completion of the Volga-Don Canal.

Boxes 37-48, Indexing and Suspense Forms, 1951-53

Indexing and Suspense Forms, serving imperfectly as an index to the Psychological Strategy Board files. Not all documents cross referenced by these forms are present in the files. The forms identify the documents cross referenced by correspondents, date and subject content. Arranged by War Department decimal file system file number.

Class 000—General, 1951-53

PERSONAL PAPERS and ORGANIZATIONAL RECORDS

The Truman Library has accumulated over the years about 400 collections of President Truman's relatives, friends, and associates. This collecting effort is still active, and it is hoped that several fine collections will be added to this list in future years. A few collections on the list have not yet been processed and are consequently not open to research. These are identified with a bold NP. Many small collections - many of them only a few pages in volume - are not included in this list. Researchers who wish to inquire about any of these collections should contact the Library.

Several complete finding aids may be found through this list but for those not yet available, researchers should remember that finding aids to all the Library collections, plus unrestricted oral history transcripts, are available through interlibrary loan. In requesting finding aids and oral histories, please identify the desired collections by full title (ex. Clark M. Clifford Papers, Matthew J. Connelly Files). The online finding aids are intended to provide information to researchers planning a research visit to the library, not as a means of selecting materials for mail order photocopying. The folder titles are typically not specific enough for that purpose.

JFD-JMA Chronological Series
The JFD-JMA Chronological Series spans the period from June 1951 to April 1952 and contains over 4,000 pages of manuscript. The series documents John Foster Dulles service as Consultant to Secretary of State Dean Acheson with the rank... of Ambassador. Dulles was responsible to negotiating the multilateral Treaty of Peace between the World War allied powers and Japan, and the bilateral security treaty between the United States and Japan. Both treaties were signed on September 8, 1951. Ambassador John M. Allison served as Special Assistant to John Foster Dulles during the treaty negotiations. The series is arranged chronologically and reverse chronologically within file folders.

Types of documentation include correspondence, memoranda, memoranda of conversations, messages, statements, summaries and treaty drafts. This material reflects the interests of various Asian and European countries in the treaty negotiations, the involvement of the United States congress and the Department of Defense in discussing and approving the treaties, and issues specifically pertaining to Japan. A number of messages in this series were drafted by Dulles and signed by Secretary of States Dean Acheson.

A few pages remain donor-restricted as of May 2001. Several documents contained herein were published in the United States Department of State’s Foreign Relations of the United States, 1951, Volume VI: Asia and the Pacific, Part 1. Researchers should consult this volume when examining this series.

ENSENHOWER, DWIGHT D., RECORDS AS PRESIDENT, 1953-61
WHITE HOUSE CENTRAL FILES, 1953-61
The White House Central Files comprise the largest collection in the Library, totaling approximately 6,500,000 pages.
All of the major foreign and domestic issues and policies associated with the Eisenhower Administration, as well as the political events of the period, are documented by the Central Files.

The White House Central Files comprise the largest collection in the Library, totaling approximately 6,500,000 pages. All of the major foreign and domestic issues and policies associated with the Eisenhower Administration, as well as the political events of the period, are documented by the Central Files. To date, approximately 2,200,000 pages of the Central Files comprising, for the most part, the more historically significant segments of the collection have been processed. Available for research at this time are the Confidential File (CF), the Official File (OF), 90 percent of the General File (GF), and 50 percent of the President's Personal File (PPF). The unprocessed portions of the General File and the President's Personal File largely pertain to subjects of marginal historical value such as message requests from organizations, public requests for photographs, birthday congratulations, and invitations. Researchers may request that selected portions of the General File and the President's Personal File be processed and made available for research. Whether such requests can be honored, however, depends upon the size of the request, when the materials will be needed by the researcher, and the amount of staff time that can be diverted from other projects at the time of the request.

The Official File

The Official File (OF), totaling approximately 766,000 pages, contains a substantial quantity of high-level materials reflecting major issues of public policy and presidential actions. Included are correspondence, memoranda, drafts of speeches and executive orders, telegrams, reports, agenda, press releases, and other materials.

The General File

The General File (GF), totaling approximately 1,054,000 pages, consists essentially of expressions of public opinion on major issues by individuals and organizations, and materials pertaining to endorsements of individuals for public office. However, one can occasionally find in the files important correspondence and memoranda originated by members of Congress, the judiciary, and executive departments.

The President's Personal File

The President's Personal File (PPF), totaling approximately 790,000 pages, consists primarily of the President's social correspondence, congratulatory letters from the President to individuals, and human interest letters. There are, generally speaking, few substantive documents in this file.

The Confidential File

The Confidential File (CF), totaling approximately 100,000 pages, contains the highest-level materials in the Central Files on many subjects. The correspondence, memoranda, telegrams, and reports in the file are especially rich on such subjects as national security policy, foreign relations, domestic and foreign economic policy, and natural resources. Security classified documents comprise approximately 30 percent of the file.

The Pre-Inaugural File

The Pre-Inaugural File, totaling approximately 20,000 pages, was created by the staff of Dwight D. Eisenhower prior to his inauguration as President. The file, which covers the period from June 1952 to January 1953, consists primarily of correspondence of Eisenhower and his staff with the general public concerning the 1952 presidential campaign and the 1953 inauguration. The file also contains a small quantity of Eisenhower's correspondence with party leaders, prominent public figures, and friends.

The Alphabetical File

The Alphabetical File, totaling almost 3,000,000 pages, is the largest of the remaining unprocessed segments of the Central Files. The "Alpha" File consists of routine letters from the general public, referral sheets indicating that certain items of public mail were forwarded to government departments for responses, and cross-reference sheets to most of the documents in the OF, GF, and PPF segments of the Central Files. These cross-reference sheets serve as a valuable index which assists the staff in locating documents that cannot be found in the obvious file locations.

The remaining segments of the Central Files, most of which are unprocessed, total approximately 800,000 pages. These segments consist of bulk public opinion mail on major issues, oversize reports and charts, publications, and a small quantity of materials similar to those found in OF, GF, PPF and the Alphabetical File.

Finding aids to the Official, General, and President's Personal Files consist of filing manuals created by the White House Files Section during the Eisenhower Administration, and container (folder title) lists prepared by the staff of the Eisenhower Library. The Official, General, and President's Personal Files were organized by the Central Files Section under a numeric-subject system. That is, code numbers were assigned to government departments, to major policy issues and to foreign countries, and all documents pertaining to each subject were then filed under the assigned codes. For example, high-level materials pertaining to the Department of Defense were filed under OF 3. The numeric codes were broken down further if necessary to incorporate subtopics—for example, OF 3-A is the code for the Department of the Army, and OF 3-B for the Navy. When necessary, these codes were divided even further—for example, OF 3-B-1 is the numeric designation for the Chief of Naval Operations. The General File and the President's Personal File are arranged in the same fashion.

The filing manuals have a dual organization based upon the subject-numeric system. The first part of the filing manual consists of a sequential numerical listing, the code numbers listed in the left column and the corresponding subjects in the right.
The second part of the manual is set up in reverse fashion, with an alphabetically-arranged subject listing in the left column and the corresponding code numbers in the right. These filing manuals are quite large—the OF manual consists of approximately 650 pages, the GF manual is about 400 pages, and the PPF manual is the smallest at 350 pages.

In addition to the manuals, the Library has made available to researchers container lists which consist essentially of the numeric-subject lists with box numbers and folder titles added. Ordinarily, a researcher would look for materials pertaining to his subject by first examining the alphabetical subject listing in the filing manuals and determining which code numbers were pertinent. He then would locate these code numbers in the container lists to determine the quantity of relevant materials and to pinpoint specific folders of interest. For example, a researcher interested in the Federal Communications Commission would find in the filing manual to the Official File that the code number assigned to the FCC is OF 16. Checking the OF container list he would find that the OF 16 materials are in boxes 190-191 and that there is a single FCC file folder for each year of the administration. These container lists, like the filing manuals, are quite large—the OF list is 309 pages, the GF list is 788 pages, and the PPF list is 406 pages.

A container list is available for the Confidential File. This file is arranged alphabetically, and most folder titles pertain to government agencies, public and private organizations, and major policy and political issues. For example, there are folders titled "Department of the Army," "American Bulgarian League," and," Atomic Energy and Bomb." The finding aid to the Confidential File is relatively small, amounting to only 39 pages.

The Presidential Papers of Dwight D. Eisenhower (Ann Whitman File) constitute the richest historical collection in the Dwight D. Eisenhower Library. These are the President's office files, maintained during his administration by his personal secretary, Ann Whitman. The documents in this collection, totaling approximately 276,000 pages, include the President's correspondence and memoranda of conversations with heads of state, government officials, friends, and associates, as well as correspondence, memoranda, agenda, press releases, reports and other materials documenting the foreign and domestic policies of the Eisenhower Administration, the political activities of the President and his associates, and the President's personal affairs. Generally, the materials cover the years 1953-61 although there are scattered documents dated earlier.

At the close of the Eisenhower Administration, these materials were shipped to Gettysburg where former President Eisenhower used them in preparing his presidential memoirs, The White House Years. Following Eisenhower's death in 1969, the papers were transferred to the Eisenhower Library. Six series, constituting approximately 50 percent of the collection, were made available for research in May 1975; by March 1983 the twelve remaining series in the collection had been processed and opened to scholars, although portions are closed in keeping with donor restrictions or government regulations. The eighteen series in the Ann Whitman File, totaling 138 linear feet or approximately 276,000 pages, are as follows:

Finding aids have been prepared for each series. These vary considerably in size and detail. Some consist of unannotated container (folder title) lists; but the container lists for most of the series have extensive annotations following each folder title, indicating the subjects documented by the folder. Several of the finding aids also have scope and content notes which give an overview of the series. In the future, as more staff time becomes available for descriptive projects, several of the series finding aids will be refined, and in time a comprehensive finding aid for the entire collection will be prepared.

Finding aids to Dwight D. Eisenhower's Papers as President, like the finding aids to other Library collections, are available to researchers through interlibrary loan. In requesting finding aids to this collection please identify the desired finding aids by series title.

JOHN F. KENNEDY LIBRARY

The research collections of the Kennedy Library comprise nearly 34,000,000 pages of documents and manuscript material, more than 1,000 oral history interviews, 147,000 photographs, 6,600 reels of film, nearly 11,000 reels of audiotape, and 25,000 cataloged books. Each collection is described in Historical Materials in the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library. This publication also contains important information concerning library policies and procedures and the status of particular collections.

PRESIDENTIAL PAPERS, 1961-63

The working files of President Kennedy and his Presidential staff. 3,517.5 feet, 28 rolls of microfilm, 127 audiotapes, 73 dictabelts.

The Presidential papers of John F. Kennedy consist of several major bodies of research material. The White House Central Subject File is the principal White House file. The White House Name File contains copies of most incoming correspondence arranged alphabetically by name of correspondent and is cross-referenced to the Subject File. The Chronological File contains copies of documents prepared for the President's signature and is also cross-referenced to the Subject File. The Social File contains the records of the White House Social Office and includes the correspondence of the First Lady. The President's Office File contains the papers maintained by the President's personal secretary for his use. The National Security File contains the records of the staff of the special assistant to the President for national security affairs. In addition, in what were called in the White House "storage" or "overflow" files are found various miscellaneous materials and the records of the offices of most members of the President's staff. The files described in this finding aid constitute one of the series of White House staff files included in the Presidential papers of John F. Kennedy.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE FILES

A sub-file of the Presidential Papers of John F. Kennedy consisting of the working files of President Kennedy as maintained by his personal secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln, in the Oval Office of the White House. Series include: general correspondence, special correspondence, speech files, legislative files, press conferences, staff memorandums, departments and agencies, subjects, countries, personal secretary's files, special events through the years, White House Signal Agency, and Presidential recordings. 81 feet, 28 rolls of microfilm, 127 audiotapes, 73 dictabelts.

Speech Files (Boxes 34-48)

Fifteen boxes [6.3 linear shelf feet] of the Speech Files were opened to research in January 1974. At that time one-tenth of a box [0.04 linear shelf foot] was closed because of national security classification. There are four and nine-tenths boxes [2.03 linear shelf feet] of valuable original documents, chiefly reading copies and drafts with handwritten notations by President Kennedy, which have been withdrawn for preservation and replaced with electrostatic copies. This series contains, in chronological order, speeches, remarks, announcements and proclamations which President Kennedy made during the three years of his administration. A major portion of the material is the official press copy of speeches, but there are also numerous reading copies, drafts, memoranda, schedules of visits, and other supplementary information and background material on particular speeches. The speeches and remarks vary a great deal as to subject and reflect the President's schedule of visits to cities and foreign countries, meetings with heads of state, greetings to visiting groups and dignitaries, messages to Congress, remarks at state receptions and banquets, and official proclamations. The Speech Files are rich with the President's notations and comments, since reading copies, drafts, dinner menus, programs and so forth were all used to make notations and changes.

Countries (Boxes 111-128)

Eighteen boxes [7.5 linear shelf feet] of the Countries series were opened to research in January 1974. At that time twenty-one and one-half boxes [9.0 linear shelf feet] were closed because of national security classification. In addition, eight and one-half boxes [3.5 linear shelf feet] of valuable original documents were withdrawn for preservation and were replaced in the files by electrostatic copies.

The Countries series contains many State Department cables, reports and memoranda, and similar documents from the White House staff and from other agencies concerning U.S. relations with foreign countries. There is a great deal of material on the more formal aspects of these relations, including letters of credence and recall of ambassadors, arrangements by the Office of Protocol for visits of state, and briefing materials for President Kennedy's visits with foreign dignitaries in Washington and abroad. The Countries series is not a complete record of U.S. foreign policy for the Kennedy Administration, nor is it even a complete record of the President's participation in the formulation and execution of that policy, although many of the documents in this series do record some of the highlights. Until the National Security Files can be declassified and made available it is probably the richest source of documents of the time relating to foreign policy available to scholars.

The Countries series is arranged alphabetically by the name of each country and within each country subseries the arrangement is usually chronological. In some cases an original distinction between "Security" folders (containing classified material) and the rest of the subseries has been maintained. In some cases the material has been further divided into topical sub-subseries such as material relating to the Vienna meeting between Kennedy and Khrushchev. At the end of the Countries series is a small subseries of briefing material prepared for President Kennedy in the spring of 1963, detailing the background and giving performance estimates of foreign ambassadors accredited to Washington. (A parallel book on U.S. representatives abroad is found in the State subseries of the Departments and Agencies series.) Some filing oddities such as "Antarctica," "Puerto Rico," and "Islami Moslem Sect" have been retained to show the flavor of the original, although "Scotland" has been merged into the "United Kingdom" subseries. Researchers should also refer to the CO series of the White House Central Subject Files and, as they become declassified and opened, the National Security Files. Oral History interviews with U.S. ambassadors and with foreign dignitaries are another rich source available in the Kennedy Library.

Personal Secretary's Files (Boxes 129-134)

Six boxes [2.5 linear shelf feet] of the Personal Secretary's Files were opened to research in January 1974. Two-tenths of a box [0.08 linear shelf foot] was closed at that time due to donor restrictions or national security classification. One-tenth of a box [0.04 linear shelf foot] of valuable original documents was withdrawn for preservation and replaced by electrostatic copies. This series has been entitled the Personal Secretary's Files by the Kennedy Library for want of a better descriptive heading. The origin of the file is uncertain. It was maintained by the personal secretary either at the direction of President Kennedy or because she found it useful in answering repeated queries from the press and public about personal matters relating to the President and his family. It was evidently begun while John F. Kennedy was a Senator and maintained through the Presidency. Included in the series are materials on articles and books written by and about John F. Kennedy, his organization memberships, gifts to the President, PT109 (boat, book and movie), and an incomplete file of executive orders. The series may be described as a potpourri of miscellaneous information about John F. Kennedy and his associations.

The series is arranged alphabetically by subject with the subseries being Articles, Books, Gifts, Memberships, Messages, PT109, Schedules, and White House. In many instances the material duplicates or compliments material found elsewhere in the President's Office Files and in other collections and sub-collections in the Kennedy Library. For example, there is also material on gifts in the General Correspondence and Countries series of the President's Office Files. Also, the Library has a complete and indexed list of the President's appointments which should probably be relied upon ahead of the "Schedules" found here. Researchers interested in John F. Kennedy as an author should speak with the Library's Printed Materials staff.

<National Security Files, 1961-63>

The National Security Files (NSF) are the working files of McGeorge Bundy, the Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs during the Kennedy administration. An integral part of the papers of John F. Kennedy, the National Security Files were included in the general deed of gift of these papers by the executors of the President's estate in 1965. Following the organization of the first shipment of NSF material received by the Library (Boxes 1-397), additional increments were received from the National Security Council via the National Archives in Washington. Some of this material has been integrated into the collection including the McGeorge Bundy Correspondence Series (Boxes 398-405), The Paramilitary Study Group Report [Taylor Report] (Box 61A), Special Group Augmented (Box 319) and the Skybolt Report (Box 322). Preliminary descriptions and the approximate volume of the remainder of this material is given at the end of the series descriptions below. Approximate linear feet of material in the complete collection: 235.

The National Security Files are currently arranged in the series described in the following pages and preliminary folder title lists. Within the series the papers are arranged topically in subseries. In some of the larger subseries there are further divisions into: "General", "Cables" and "Subjects". Within folders the documents are generally arranged in chronological order except where documents were originally bound together.

While some of the documents were originated by the National Security Council staff, the most of the material, which consists of memoranda, letters, reports, cables, formal studies and informal think pieces, originated in the various executive departments and agencies, foreign countries and, occasionally, by private citizens. The majority of the documents were originated in the Department of State, with a lesser proportion of items from the Central Intelligence Agency and the Department of Defense as well as other agencies. Documents authored by the NSC staff are concentrated in the Meetings & Memoranda Series and scattered throughout the remainder of the series. Approximately 85 percent of the documents were originally classified in accordance with law and executive order protecting national security information and materials.

The national security staff under McGeorge Bundy was a markedly different operation from that under Robert Cutler and James Lay during the Eisenhower administration. The Operations Coordinating Board was abolished by Executive Order 10920 of February 18, 1961, and the previously sharp distinctions between planning and staff personnel and functions were deliberately blurred to gain integration of purpose. The National Security Council itself came to be regarded as a more specialized ad hoc forum for the discussion of critical issues rather than a routine meeting for ratifying decisions. The staff size was considerably decreased.

The following NSC staffers contributed some of the memoranda and reports found in these files. Their major areas of responsibility/interest are briefly outlined below.

- Mc George Bundy (Special Assistant for National Security Affairs)
- Walt W. Rostow (Deputy Special Assistant for National Security Affairs 1/61-11/61)
- Carl Kaysen (Deputy Special Assistant for National Security Affairs 11/61-11/63)
- Bromley K. Smith (Executive Secretary of the National Security Council)
- A. Russell Ash (NSC personnel and security matters)
- Samuel E. Belk (UN Affairs, Africa (South of Sahara)
- William Brubec (Africa)
- Gordon Chase (Cuba, Latin America)
- Chester V. Clifton (Military Aide to the President)
- J. Patrick Coyne (Internal Security)
- Ralph A. Dungan (Latin America)
- Michael Forrestal (Southeast Asia, Far East)
- Charles Johnson (Nuclear Matters)
- David Klein (Europe (UN, NATO), Canada)
Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., Richard Goodwin, Theodore C. Sorensen and Myer Feldman, although responsible for matters outside the normal purview of the national security staff, often had specific assignments that involved them in the work of Bundy's staff.

Several individuals participated from time to time as consultants, such as Richard E. Neustadt, Henry A. Kissinger, John J. McCloy, Adolph Berle and Dean Acheson.

Administrative support was provided by principal secretaries Alice Boyce ("ab") and Pauline A. Yates ("pay"), also Mildred Zayac. Lois Moock was the administrative officer in charge of personnel matters and logistics.

Countries (Box Nos. 1-211)

This series is arranged alphabetically by country name. Within each country, the material is arranged chronologically. Larger country files, such as Cuba and Vietnam, were originally further divided into: General, Cables and Subjects; this arrangement has been maintained. 211 Boxes

WHITE HOUSE CENTRAL FILES
White House Central Subject Files

<Scope and Content Note>

[The following description of the White House Central Subject File is quoted from The White House Filing Manual printed by the Executive Office of the President, The White House Office, 1961, p.2.]

The Subject File is for correspondence pertaining to the functions and operations of the White House, the Federal Government, foreign and other governments, and correspondence from private companies or individuals. Material to be placed in the Subject File is segregated in two categories, "EXECUTIVE" and "GENERAL."

(1) Executive Material. "Executive" material consists of correspondence and other papers of particular importance because of source or nature. These generally include incoming letters and other important documents received from agencies, Members of Congress, and other prominent correspondents. It may also include such letters even though no action was taken on them at a high level. It always includes copies of outgoing letters and other documents which were acted upon by or brought to the attention of the President personally or a designated top White House official.

(2) General Material. "General" material is that received from the public at large and other sources which, while important because it is addressed to the President, is not as important from the viewpoint of level handling or subject matter as the "Executive" material. "General" includes all letters and documents which are not classified in the "Executive" category and, for example, may include routine communications from Members of Congress. When there is a doubt about the correct category for a document, it is always filed in the "Executive." Cross reference is not made between the "Executive" and "General" categories.

The file is organized according to an alphanumeric system divided into the following 62 subject categories, with numerous cross-references:

BUSINESS ECONOMICS (BE): Boxes 11-27

Material pertaining to domestic commerce, industries, and national economy such as business trends, trade practices, costs and standards of living, inflation, economic controls, national income, effect of automation, recessions, depressions, and prosperity. Include also matters pertaining to patents and inventions, copyrights, trademarks, regulations, and controls over inventions. Except international trade (FG 3-3), tariffs (TA), and transportation (commerce) (TN).

WHITE HOUSE STAFF FILES (526 ft.)
Papers of CHRISTIAN A. HERTER, 1962-67

The White House Files of Christian Herter, Special Representative for Trade Negotiations from 1963 to 1966, comprise three series: Chronological File, Subject File, and Tariff-Schedules and Proceedings. The papers were generated during the time that Governor Herter's office was created and preparing for and carrying out the trade negotiations which the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 had envisaged. Its activities included preparation for and representation and negotiation at the GATT meeting in May of 1963; supervision of the Trade Information Committee hearings prior to the culminating Kennedy Round, to determine the effects of tariff changes upon the domestic economy; preparation for and negotiation at the "Kennedy Round" of trade negotiations beginning May 1964, to achieve a liberalization of tariff and trade barriers. The Kennedy Round was an international conference of forty-six countries, all of which were members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), to cooperatively lower tariffs and other trade barriers. The five year period of intensive national and international negotiations was initiated by a Congressional granting of negotiating power to the President from 1962 to June 30, 1967, in the passage of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962. During its existence, the Kennedy Round attempted to "stimulate U.S. economic growth and increase foreign markets for U.S. products, to strengthen economic relations with foreign countries by developing open and nondiscriminatory free world trade, and to prevent communist economic penetration of the free world" (John R. Vastine, Jr. and Thomas B. Curtis. The Kennedy Round and the Future of American Trade. New York: Praeger Publishers, 1971, page 3).

Governor Herter's office functioned to help administer the trade agreements program and also to advise the President with respect to non-tariff barriers to international trade, commodity agreements, and other trade program matters. The Special Representative for Trade Negotiations and his two deputy special representatives (W. Michael Blumenthal and William M. Roth) were appointed ambassadors. Also designated to the professional staff and under Herter's jurisdiction were an executive assistant to the special representative (Kenneth Auchincloss), a general counsel (John Rehm), a chief economist (Theodore R. Gates), an agricultural trade specialist (Irvin R. Hedges), a public affairs adviser (David C. Williams), and the chairmen of the Trade Staff and Trade Information Committees (Bernard Norwood and Louis C. Krauthoff II, respectively). The Trade Executive Committee was also under Governor Herter's direction and control. The various activities of Governor Herter's office, as described above, are all documented in the three series of files.
For related source materials at the Kennedy Library on trade negotiations during the Kennedy and early Johnson years, refer to the White House Staff Files of Howard C. Petersen and Myer Feldman; the oral history interviews of Myer Rashish, Myer Feldman, Theodore Sorensen, Henry Reuss, Seymour Harris, Luther Hodges, and George Kennan, as well as the oral-history name and subject indexes (especially "GATT" and "Trade Expansion Act"); and the White House Subject Files and President's Office Files under appropriate headings.

Papers of HOWARD C. PETERSON, 1961-63

The White House Files of Howard Petersen, Special Assistant to the President for International Trade Policy from 1961 to 1962, include fifty-six archive boxes comprising eleven series of chronological, staff, and background files. The collection was originally received as part of the Christian Herter files because Herter fell heir to them when he was appointed Special Representative for Trade Negotiations. The papers were generated during the period when President Kennedy's Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (HR 11970) was being formulated and examined. Mr. Petersen's office was set up to mobilize congressional, business and popular support for the President's trade program in order to facilitate its subsequent passage by Congress. This special executive office organized and carried out the educational effort being made by the Administration to familiarize all sectors of the American public with the need for this new trade program. The Trade Expansion Act of 1962 was designed to widen executive negotiating authority in international trade negotiations; in order to compete more effectively with European collective economic programs such as the Common Market EEC (European Economic Community), GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade), and the EFTA (European Free Trade Association). A new trade act would also increase American bargaining power in negotiations with GATT members. It would authorize the President to grant tariff cuts of up to fifty percent in return for similar concessions by other countries.

Howard Petersen, a Philadelphia banker and a Republican, was appointed as a Special Assistant probably in August 1961 to advise and assist in the development of a new international trade program. Mr. Petersen was a consultant on a part-time basis. Most of his time was devoted to travel, including three trips to Europe. He concluded the GATT tariff negotiations with the EEC and formulated and promoted the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, which became law on October 11, 1962, to replace the Trade Agreements Act. Mr. Petersen resigned as the President's Special Assistant for Trade Policy in November 1962 and Christian Herter was appointed Special Representative for Trade Negotiations.

The Petersen series fall into three main categories and are thus arranged:
1. Chronological File - Howard Petersen and Myer Rashish
2. Petersen staff and related files - Howard Petersen, Peter Davies, Myer Feldman, Thomas Finney, Carl Levin, Margaret Morgan.

The staff files and the chronological file comprise the most comprehensive portion of the Petersen files, documenting the procedures of Howard Petersen's office and the varied activities of staff members as they rallied administrative, congressional, agricultural, industrial, business, and public support for Kennedy's proposed Trade Expansion Act. Within these files, researchers can correspondence with congressmen and other government officials concerning the lobbying effort in Congress, which was supported by the Committee for a National Trade Policy and other groups, and the documentation of the liaison between Petersen's office and these groups. The House Ways and Means Committee Executive hearings on trade are particularly informative. The background files provide more specialized types of materials prepared by Petersen's office such as lists, reports and studies, clippings and articles, and speeches and official statements.

NATIONAL SECURITY FILE (NSF)

This file was the working file of President Johnson's special assistants for national security affairs, McGeorge Bundy and Walt W. Rostow. Documents in the file originated in the offices of Bundy and Rostow and their staffs, in the various executive departments and agencies, especially those having to do with foreign affairs and national defense, and in diplomatic and military posts around the world.

About half of the National Security File has been processed and opened for research. Consult the finding aid in the Reading Room or borrow a copy by mail by writing to the Supervisory Archivist, LBJ Library, 2313 Red River Street, Austin, Texas 78705. Those folders whose titles are preceded by an "X," an asterisk, or a date have been processed and their contents declassified in whole or in part. Lists of classified documents have been placed in those folders, and you may request mandatory review of individual documents which have not yet been declassified in full. Those folders not preceded by an "X," an asterisk, or a date are unprocessed and are not subject to mandatory declassification review. Consult with a member of the staff on the processing schedule.

WHITE HOUSE CENTRAL FILES, CONFIDENTIAL FILE (C.F.)
Security classified and other sensitive material sent to the White House Central Files was usually placed in the Confidential File. The C.F. Subject File uses the same subject categories as WHCF. The Confidential File also includes a Name File (which serves as a name index to the C.F. Subject File), an agency reports file, and an oversize attachments file. The Confidential File is entirely processed, but portions are still classified.
OFFICE FILES OF THE WHITE HOUSE AIDES

Many White House aides maintained office files of their own, separate physically from the rest of the White House Central Files. The files of each aide reflect his or her responsibilities. This list is not definitive, but it does include most pertinent folders in the aides files. If a folder is not open for research, it will be processed upon request. Researchers should anticipate a delay in receiving this material. ( = unprocessed)

THE PRESIDENT'S APPOINTMENT FILE [DIARY BACKUP]

This file of backup material for the President's appointments includes schedules, briefing papers, press releases, some memoranda of conversations, and other material. Organized by date, there is a folder for most every day of the administration, with special folders for many head-of-state visits. While little foreign policy material was filed here during 1964 and 1965, Diary Backup includes a significant amount of foreign policy material for 1966-68.

The Diary Cards in the Reading Room provide an alphabetically arranged name index to the President's appointments. Once the date of an appointment has been determined, check the "Diaries and Logs" finding aid for the number of the appropriate box in Diary Backup. On Japan, see the following folders:

Papers of U. Alexis Johnson
The papers of U. Alexis Johnson consist of scrapbooks and files documenting his travel activities. The diaries, which cover his tenure as Ambassador to Japan, are in tapes and transcript formats. Mr. Johnson has retained his copyright in the tapes and transcripts. The transcripts of the diary tapes are available for research (in Box 1). The Okinawa/Bonin Islands issue is prominent, among many other topics in these transcripts.

Parallel File: Foreign Relations of the United States (FRUS)
The FRUS Parallel file consists of the complete documents among the Nixon Presidential Materials that have been published, in whole or in part, by the Department of State in conjunction with the Foreign Relations of the United States series. Only photocopies of those documents that are located in currently closed collections are included in this parallel file. These individual documents have been reviewed for declassification under E.O. 12958. They have also been reviewed for personal access. and private materials as well as non-historical items according to the Presidential Recordings and Materials Preservation Act of 1974. Any Nixon Presidential Materials that are part of the open collections and are published in the FRUS series may be found among their original collections.

Military and University Archives
In 1961 General MacArthur executed a deed of gift in which he gave the City of Norfolk all his trophies, medals, prizes, decorations, uniforms, flags, swords, battle souvenirs, personal papers, documents, records and other personal memorabilia. The city restored the historic 1850 city hall to house this collection. The Jean MacArthur Research Center, an administration, archives, and education building serves as the repository for the MacArthur collection.

The library contains General MacArthur's original collection of 5,000 volumes augmented by gifts and purchases of books concerning the General, his times, and his associates. This is a non-lending reference and research library. The archives proper hold some 2 million documents, 86,000 photographs, 130 photograph albums, and 111 motion picture films in addition to sound recordings, newspapers, rare books, scrapbooks, and microfilms.

General MacArthur's correspondence and papers are both personal and official; they include not only his private correspondence but also his headquarters official files of letters, reports, photographs, messages, memoranda, and orders. Except for a few scattered items, the General's papers date from the summer of 1941 to his death.

Of particular interest to researchers have been the documents on the General's tenure as Philippine Military Advisor; the unique materials on the first months of the war in the Philippines, 1941-1942; WWII; the occupation and rehabilitation of Japan; the Korean War; the message files of 1941-1951; the photographic collection; and the General's private correspondence. Certain papers of Major General Whitney, Major General Willoughby, and Lieutenant General Sutherland are also available.

The archival collection is now available on 35mm microfilm. The film may be borrowed through interlibrary loan or purchased directly.

<PHOTOGRAPH COLLECTIONS>
The Paul W. Caraway Collection
The Paul W. Caraway Collection covers the long and distinguished career of Lt. Gen. Caraway from his West Point days in the late 1920s till after his retirement in 1964. There is conspicuously little to illustrate his activities until after World War II. There is excellent coverage when he commanded the 351st Infantry, 88th Division in Trieste from 1949 to 1951 and of his tenure with the NATO Defense College from 1951 to 1953. He also accompanied Vice President Richard Nixon on his tour of Asia in 1953. There is excellent coverage again during his tour as 7th Infantry Division Commander in Korea from 1955 to 1956; at Headquarters Far East Command from 1956 to 1958; and when U.S. Army Commanding General in the Ryukyus from 1961 to 1964.
10 boxes, 2450 photographs.

The Rupert D. Graves Collection
Rupert D. Graves commanded the 517th Parachute Infantry Regiment during the latter part of World War II, serving in Europe. The photographs cover the period May 17, 1944 to August 20, 1945 contained in a photo album/scrapbook. There is one photo of the staff of the 28th Infantry Regiment in Okinawa, February 1951. The Album contains photos of the activities of the 517th PIR showing parachute jumps, officers, and men of the regiment, Red Cross girls, destroyed German equipment, reviews, and numerous post card views of France. 1 box, 133 photographs.

The Medical Records Collection
Most of this collection has to do with the Vietnam War, from 1960-70. Much of the collection came to MHI as 35mm film in film canisters with no caption information except for the person from which the film came. Thus, although there are seven boxes of excellent photographs, only the last two boxes have much in the way of caption information. Nevertheless, this collection is both very significant and extremely poignant. Significant for the fact that most of the photos deal with the Vietnam War and many from the early American involvement from 1960-65. Much of that involvement deals with Special Forces Groups working with and training indigenous South Vietnamese soldiers and citizens in both military and civil/personal hygiene farming pursuits. Poignant from the fact that many of the photos are of medical procedures for terribly wounded soldiers-mostly Vietnamese. The photos of extremely ghastly wounds are enough to bring anyone to hate war!

Within this collection are photos of ships, scenery, cities and native village, compounds and base camps, Vietnamese and American troops; hospitals, surgical procedures, wounds, dental care, personal hygiene training, doctors and nurses and many Special Forces personnel. There are also some photos dealing with the history of the medical corps and the Army Nurse Corps and a nice group of medical vehicles from the Civil War to helicopter evacuation. There are photos of numerous hospitals in Vietnam, Walter red Medical Center and other hospital, stateside and several in Laos and Okinawa. Finally those are some few photos copied from “Green Beret Magazine.” This is an especially significant collection for the Vietnam War and medical operations there. Although 95 % of the photographs are uncaptioned, they are nevertheless extremely graphic.

<Scope and Content Note>

The George H. Kerr Papers provide information about economic and political affairs in Taiwan in the 1930s and 1940s, Taiwan's transition from Japanese rule before and during World War II to postwar Chinese rule, Taiwanese rebellion against Chinese rule in 1947, and U.S. foreign policy toward Taiwan. Some information about economic and political conditions in Okinawa and the Ryukyu Islands after World War II is also included.

The series CHRONOLOGICAL FILE OF EVENTS IN TAIWAN covers the period during which Kerr served as U.S. vice consul at Taipei. It consists chiefly of translated local press reports, many of which were issued by the United States Information Service, Taipei, and handwritten chronologies of local events in Taiwan. Some of the chronologies are written in composition notebooks that span several months in a single notebook; these are filed under the first month listed in the notebook.

Most of the material in the SUBJECT FILE series was collected during Kerr's service as a Taiwan specialist with the U.S. military during World War II. Included are translations of selected chapters of Taiwan Jijō (Conditions in Taiwan), 1939, and Taiwan Keizai Nempō (Taiwan Economic Annual Report), 1943, prepared at the Military Government Translation Center of the Naval School of Military Government and Administration at Columbia University. Also included are outlines of a series of lectures that were directed toward U.S. civil affairs officers assigned to Taiwan. The dates provided in the container list for this series are limited because many of the documents do not bear dates, some have only a translation date, and others have only a publication date. The few photographs available depict Taiwan's geographic features.

The CLIPPINGS FILE series also relates primarily to Taiwan, with the vast bulk dated 1950. The articles were cut from English-language newspapers in the U.S., such as the San Francisco Chronicle, Chinese World (San Francisco), and the New York Times.

The UNIVERSITY SEMINAR FILE series relates to courses on East Asia at the Hoover Institution and the University of California in which Kerr served as instructor or co-instructor. The files are incomplete, consisting of miscellaneous course materials and a few student papers. Other student papers are interfiled in the SUBJECT FILE series.

In addition to material in the WRITINGS series, some notes and drafts that were probably written by Kerr are interfiled with other documents in the SUBJECT FILE series. In the series CHRONOLOGICAL FILE OF EVENTS IN TAIWAN, a few brief memoranda by Kerr are interfiled from January 1947, and syllabi in the UNIVERSITY SEMINAR FILE series were probably written by him.

Most of the papers in this collection are in English; a few are in Japanese. Folders consisting entirely of material in Japanese are indicated in the container list.

A major portion of Kerr's research collection is held by the East Asian Library at the University of California at Berkeley; additional Kerr papers are held at the 2-28 Memorial Museum Archives in Taiwan and the Okinawa Prefectural Archives.

<Scope Note>
The Lansdale papers are drawn almost entirely from the post-World War II period. During the years following the war, General Lansdale served in the Philippines Ryukyus Command (1945-48), returned briefly to the United States as an instructor at the Lowry Air Force Base (1949), and then transferred back to the Philippines to serve in the Joint U.S. Military Advisory Group (1950-54). In 1953, Lansdale visited Vietnam with General J.W. O'Daniel's advisory mission to the French forces, and in 1954 he was transferred to Saigon for a two-year term (1954-56). In 1957 Lansdale joined the office of the Secretary of Defense as a special operations expert. After his retirement in 1963, and a brief tenure as consultant to the White House Food for Peace program, he returned to Saigon as Senior Liaison Officer at the U.S. Embassy (1965-68). He published his memoirs in 1972.

The papers are divided into fifteen series. The first five (biographical file, correspondence file, diaries, speeches and writings, and subject file) consist of materials drawn from the entire time period (1945-present). The diaries record some of Lansdale's impressions and experiences during his first period in the Philippines. Within the speeches and writings series are the notes and drafts for Lansdale's memoirs (The Midst Of Wars), containing much material not published in the final version. The subject file series is very broad, but of special interest under "Vietnam" are the sub-headings "politics and government" and "Republic of Vietnam." The latter is a sampling of memoranda and other papers from the government of Ngo Dinh Diem and his successors. Finally, several pamphlets outlining "operational guidelines" for cadre working within the rural construction (revolutionary development) program are found under "Vietnamese conflict" (sub-heading "pacification").

The next five series follow Lansdale's career paths from his first years in the Philippines to his last stay in Vietnam. There are three very compact series of material from his two periods in the Philippines and his first period in Vietnam. The bulk of the collection is found in the other two career series: the files from the Department of Defense, Office of the Secretary of Defense, and from the United States Embassy-Saigon, Senior Liaison Office.

In the Department of Defense series are found memoranda, reports, and other items from the Draper Committee, including schedules from that committee's 1959 tour of some Southeast Asia countries. Notes, correspondence, and comments from Lansdale's 1961 trip to Vietnam (with General Maxwell Taylor's party) are also of interest, and are found in this series under "subject file" (sub-heading "Vietnam").

Within the Senior Liaison Office series the "day files" are especially complete (except for the security withdrawals--see below). These files comprise a record of each outgoing letter, memo, and report. Researchers may also wish to consult the tape recording series. Because of the sensitive nature of many of the Lansdale papers, there have been many security withdrawals of documents. In the place of these documents the researcher will find numbered "outcards." These documents will be reviewed for declassification consideration at five-year intervals, and eventually will be returned to the collection.

Arranged alphabetically by title or author

Boxes 192-194: Biographical File, 1922-74
Material on or about Jay Lovestone, arranged alphabetically by title or subject

Correspondence, meeting notes, memoranda, reports, speeches, etc., on the activities and organization of the Communist Party, and relations with the Communist International. During this time the party underwent a number of name changes. In September 1919, two parties were founded, the Communist Party of America (CPA) and the Communist Labor Party (CLP). Forced to go underground in 1920, the two groups split further. In May 1920, a United Communist Party began, and another Communist Party of America was organized in May 1921. The latter split into two parties with the same name in January 1922. In December 1921, the Workers Party of America (WPA) was formed, and in February 1922, the United Toilers of America. In April 1923, a united, legal group became the Workers Party of America. Two further name changes followed in the 1920s: in 1925, the name was changed to the Workers (Communist) Party of America, and in 1929, the Communist Party of the United States (CPUSA). Material in this file is from several of the aforementioned groups. In order to keep the organization as straightforward as possible, however, the papers have been arranged under the generic title of the Communist Party, U.S.A. Arranged alphabetically and chronologically.* [*At various times when Jay Lovestone was in the Communist Party and the Communist Party Opposition, he used the following pseudonyms: Bacon, Beets, Birch, Gaynor (Traynor?), William B. Judd, Langley, Edmund J. Lawson, Roger B. Nelson, Powers, John Robertson, George Robin, George J. Thornton, Wheat].

Boxes 230-233: Communist Party (Opposition), 1929-40
Correspondence, financial documents, meeting notes, reports, speeches, etc., related to the political group founded by Jay Lovestone after he was expelled from the Communist Party by Iosip Stalin in 1929. Initially, the group was called the Communist Party of the U.S. (Majority Group). The name was changed in 1932 to the Communist Party (Opposition). In 1937, it became the Independent Communist Labor League and in 1938, the Independent Labor League of America. In addition to the official names given to the group, it was also variously known as the Lovestone Group or the Lovestoneites. In this series, it is called the Communist Party, U.S.A. (Opposition) and material from the various groups is found herein. Arranged alphabetically and chronologically.* [*At various times when Jay Lovestone was in the Communist Party and the Communist Party Opposition, he used the following pseudonyms: Bacon, Beets, Birch, Gaynor (Traynor?), William B. Joseph C. Trainor was made a lieutenant commander of the United States Army in May of 1946. For one year, until May of 1947, he served as a member of the Education Division of the Civil Information and Education Section of the General Headquarters of the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers in Tokyo. He returned in July of 1949 in the capacity of Deputy Chief of the Education Division. The occupation authorities in Japan were committed to a program of democratizing Japan. One important facet of this program was educational reform. Occupation authorities rigorously pursued a program of restructuring administrative machinery, reorganizing schools, and reforming curricula. As a staff member of the Education Division for one year in 1946-1947, Joseph C. Trainor became familiar with this endeavor. As its Deputy Chief and second-in-command from July of 1949 until the American authorities left Japan in 1952, he was intimately involved at the policy and implementation levels. The Joseph C. Trainor Collection well reflects and documents the program of democratization American authorities pursued vis-a-vis the Japanese educational system. Rather than an arbitrary assemblage of an individual's papers, the Trainor Collection comprises archives, possibly incomplete, of American governmental and other agencies. The three series -- Ministry of Education; Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers (SCAP). General Headquarters (GHQ). Civil and Information Section (CIE); and Subject File -- conform to the arrangement of the collection when it arrived at the Hoover Institution Archives. Within the series, the original arrangement of files has been maintained to as great an extent as possible while still insuring a logical and accessible organization. Within the three series are found many types of material ranging from handwritten notes to reprints of American journal articles. The series description which follows gives a more detailed inventory of the types of documents. The Ministry of Education file consists primarily of copies of documents, typescripts usually, which were generated either by the Japanese Ministry of Education or by other administrative or legislative bodies, such as the Diet. These documents usually define, but occasionally establish, the functions of the Ministry. The second series, and the one which comprises over 80% of the collection, is that of the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, General Headquarters, Civil Information and Education. This series is then further broken down into subseries, the largest and most important of which is titled Education Division. The subseries represent distinctions found within the collection when it arrived at the repository. Throughout the SCAP. GHQ. CIE. series, the researcher will find reports, memoranda, statistics, studies and a host of other material relating to the effort of reorganizing Japanese education. In this series lies the crux of the Trainor Collection. The last series is the Subject File. It, too, contains a variety of forms of documents. To a limited extent, documents from sections of the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, General Headquarters other than Civil Information and Education are to be found in this series. Some documents pertain to education. The majority of documents in this file, however, are unrelated to education, and concern a variety of topics. In all of the series, files are arranged alphabetically by subject or title, following closely the original arrangement of the collection when it was received. If materials are dated, the dates are given at the end of an entry. A dash between two dates indicates there is material in the file covering that time span. A comma, however, is used to indicate materials form two different days, months or years, with no material from the intervening period in the file. Single items missing a date are listed with no date at the end of their entry. Folders with dates given may contain material which is undated, in which case that material has been placed at the back of the folder. If under a single entry with large quantities of material, enough material was undated to warrant its own folder, it is listed as the last subheading of that entry as Undated. The purpose behind the positioning of undated material at the end of a file, or files, was to give the researcher a better chance of understanding, if not actually placing, undated materials after reading through the sequence of dated material.

GORDON WARNER PHOTOGRAPH COLLECTION, 1952-76
The library houses over 23,000 books covering the military and diplomatic history of the United States emphasizing General Marshall's career from 1900 -1960 and his leadership during World War I and World War II. The library's books are available for individual loan and through the interlibrary loan network. Contact your library for information on interlibrary loan options.

The main holding of the archives is the collection of the George C. Marshall Papers. In addition, there are over 145 other manuscript collections which are housed in a three-story government security vault which is temperature and humidity controlled to aid in preservation of documents. Collections range from a single folder such as a diary kept by a prisoner-of-war during the Battle of the Bulge to multi-folder divisional histories and newsletters. Major collections include:

Friedman Cryptologic Collection, 1831-1982, 1 lf, 110
This collection consists of material pertaining to either the science of cryptology or William F. Friedman, one of the foremost American cryptographers. The largest portion of this collection consists of copies of NSA/CSS documents made available to the National Archives. These Signal Research Histories (SRH), which all pertain to WW II intelligence matters, include articles and lectures by Friedman, Japanese diplomatic messages, reports on various wartime intelligence agencies, and copies of GCM correspondence concerning MAGIC and ULTRA. Also included are a scrapbook kept by amateur cryptanalyst Howard T. Oakley on the various applications of codes and a series of book reviews of David Kahn's The Codebreakers.

Marshall Foundation National Archives Project, c. 1916-1959, 96 lf paper records and 736 microfilm reels
This collection of approximately 1,000,000 pages of copied material was created by the Marshall Foundation to augment GCM's personal papers. The Foundation wished to assemble as complete a record as possible from the official files of the various agencies in which Marshall worked. Most of this material comes from official files of the Army, War Department, State Department, and Defense Department, which are in the custody of the National Archives. Also included here are material published on microfilm by the National Archives and the National Historical Publications Commission ("F.D.R. Press Conferences", "National War College Periodical Index"), published microfilm from others sources (e.g., The Stimson Diaries); periodicals on microfilm (Army and Navy Journal, Military Review, etc.); finding aids from other institutions; doctoral dissertations and other scholarly writings; portions of GCM's personal papers and correspondence with or about GCM sent to biographer Forrest C. Pogue.
